- John Waddle married, in 1806, Nancy Mann, who was born in Kentucky. Her father, William Mann, a native of Augusta County, Virginia, married Eleanor Raeburn, and soon after moved to Kentucky, locating in the Blue Grass region, between Lexington and Georgetown. Mr. Mann died leaving three daughters, Elizabeth, Nancy and Mary.⁶⁴¹

Phoebe EVERITT¹⁶⁰

- a “spinster” (that is, now a “widow”).¹³⁵
- I could find nothing that would prove Phoebe Everett was a daughter of Clear Everett. The Everitt family, p. 57 DCHS- Year Book 1922 states “they had (at least) five children...” which indicates there could have been others (maybe dying in infancy) but unlikely Phoebe was one of them.⁷⁴⁰
- The Dutchess Co tax lists show a Richard Everitt (1756, 1760-3) and his son Clear. Probate was entered for Richard, 9 March 1764. Clear Everitt was sheriff for Dutchess County, and was married to Magdalena Vanderburgh. He died 3 July 1790. I have no indication that Phoebe (Everitt) Martin is related. (Margin Note: It has been my guess that Clear is her father.)³²⁸⁷

Research: • A Richard Everit (also Everitt) died intestate in 1764, when his son, Clear, was appointed administrator. John Clare, of Jamaica, in his will, acted and proved in 1720, left land not only to Richard, eldest son of his sister, Elizabeth Everit, but after the death of his wife practically all his real property was to go “to my cousin Richard Everit during his life and after his decease to his son Clare.” Just who this Richard was is not certain, but he was surely one of the Jamaica family. The son’s name is more usually spelled Clear, rather than Clare, but does not seem to have been St. Clair, as sometimes thought. Clear Everitt, who in January 1744/45 married Magdalena van der Burg, became a prominent citizen of early Poughkeepsie. He was sheriff in 1754, an overseer, and the owner of considerable property. Some indications seem to show that he was a Tory, but his property was not confiscated in 1777, like that of most Loyalists, and in 1784 he was paid rent for the use of his roomy the Court of Oyer and Terminer. However, he was apparently absent from his home during part of the war, did not sign the Pledge of Association. Clear and his son, Richard Everitt in Poughkeepsie, according to popular belief was occupied during part of the Revolution by Governor Clinton. The State of New York has bought the building and it now preserved as a historical museum. It is not improbable that Washington and Lafayette stayed there, and certainly it was used for important purposes, although it is not certain that it was the principal gubernatorial mansion in Poughkeepsie. The house seems to have been built after 1770, and while there is no evidence that Clear Everitt or his son Richard put it up, they are generally supposed to have done so.⁷⁹³¹

- ANCESTOR'S SERVICES

My ancestor's services in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows:

Thomas Jerrols (so spelled in Scotland) later in this generation changed to Gerald, is the ancestor who assisted in the Revolutionary War, acting in the capacity of Sergeant in the company of non-commissioned officers and privates (1781 to 1783) and in the Corps of Invalids as Sergeant from 1781 to 1783. He was in the Third Regiment, Connecticut line. Captain Williams of Wethersfield, Conn., Record of Connecticut during War of the Revolution, published in Hartford, Conn., 1889. Items of service are found on pages 296 and 335.

BLWT. 1034 for 100 acres was issued April 1, 1822 to Seth Leavitt, Assignee, who filed a Discharge Certificate of George Washington, showing that Thomas Gerralds was a Serg't. in the Invalid Regiment, and had served 6 years and 3 months. The certificate was dated June 11, 1783. This warrant had been bought by Leavitt from the son of the Rev. Soldier, Thomas Gerald, in 1810, to whom it had been given by the father, then visiting his son. Later, according to the testimony of Mrs Asenath Gerald of Suffield, Conn., widow of the son Thomas, in 1821, the father went back to Williston [sic], Vt. and died. Oct. 9, 1815 Mary Williams and her husband, Sanford Williams of Huntington, Vt. sold their interest in the warrant to Seth Leavitt. Mary had died before 1822, when the Probate Court issued a certificate giving the names of the seven children of Thomas Gerald, Rev. Soldier, and that Thomas, Mary and Clark, had died since their father. (As the son received the warrant from his father in 1810, and died in 1814, that approximates the death of his father.) Sept. 6, 1821 Timothy Risley and Abigail Risley, Thomas Case, Jr. and Sarah Case, all of East Hartford, Conn. sold to Seth Leavitt their interest in the above Land warrant, and stated that Thomas Gerald, Sen. was the father of Abigail, and Sarah; that he and his son Thomas of Warren, Vt., their brother, were dead; that Prudence Slate, wife of Thomas, lived in Truxton, N.Y., Martha Randall, wife of David Randall, lived in Huntington Vt. (Mary must, therefore, have died between Sept. 6, 1821 and Feb. 9, 1822, when the Probate Court certificate was issued.) March 6, 1818, Seth Leavitt wrote Mrs Mary Everts of Bolton, Vt., widow of Thomas Gerald, Rev. Soldier, who had remarried, assuring her that he would do nothing to prevent her obtaining a pension or BLWT., but as widows of Rev. soldiers were not entitled to either, at that time, he presented his claim, with the above mentioned letters, and received the warrant.

- Thomas was born in Scotland around 1745. In his family bible, Thomas spelled the family name as Jerrells.

In 1777, Thomas joined the Continental Army, Connecticut Line, for the Duration of the war. In 1781, he was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. On April 5, 1781, he was transferred to the Corps of Invalids and Sappers. His discharge paper, attached, was signed by George Washington. The book Private Yankee Doodle by Joseph Plumb Martin is a first-hand account written by a soldier who also served in the Connecticut Line. It's a wonderful account of the Revolutionary War and must document many of the same experiences that Thomas had. I will post a link at the bottom of the sketch.

In his military files (where his name is spelled Thomas Jerrols), there are many documents, including his discharge papers, signed by George Washington. I will post a copy in the memories section. Upon discharge, his role was Sergeant in the Corps of Invalids and Corps of Sappers and Miners. The nature and extent of his wounds or disabilities are not stated, but he did go on to father many children with three wives.

In 1810, Thomas gave his Revolutionary War bounty lands to his son, Thomas, Jr., who conveyed the same to Seth Leavitt, then a citizen of Williston. Seth is buried in the East Cemetery. Seth Leavitt had some legal problems getting title to the bounty lands and set out to quiet title. This included visiting all of Thomas' heirs. These letters are all in Thomas' military files. All heirs disclaimed their interest except Martha Jerrolds and David Randall. They would not agree to it, so Seth Leavitt appealed to the government via his Representative for relief.⁷⁷⁶¹

- "Scotland" could be Scotland, Windham county, Connecticut.³³⁸⁸
- I recently ran across some information on the Mary Gerald (Jerrolds) line you submitted to the Ancestral File that I thought you would be interested to know. Her father, Thomas Gerald, was a Revolutionary War veteran and there was a dispute over his bounty lands. FHL film number 971,063 has the records, including a document signed by Mary Williams and Sanford Williams. Mary's sister, Martha, is my 4th GGMother. Mary and Martha were two of seven children. The oldest brother, Thomas, lists his mother as Prudence. Martha's mother was Mary, according to her own records. I am not sure where the Elizabeth you identified as Mary's mother would fit in. What evidence do you have as to her identity and relationship to Thomas, Sr.? I am trying to put the whole family together.²³¹⁰
- Gerald seems to be a derivative of GEROULD, which is French Huguenot (Protestant), and the founder of the family was a Dr. Jacque who settled in Medfield, MA. Although I have nothing on the parent of your Thomas, I can almost assure you he was not from Scotland near England. The confusion with the name comes after 1840 with the Irish immigration when so many came with the name Fitz Gerald and later dropped the Fitz.³³⁸⁸

• It is possible that James Holmes' sisters Rebecca and Sarah were the wives of our David and John Mills of NS. Here are some interesting connections:

1. James Holmes like David and John Mills was a loyalist and went to NS after the Revolution (although James Holmes returned to Bedford.) (David Mills son George stayed in Bedford until after 1790.)

2 James Holmes was the Lieutenant of the Company at Ticonderoga during the F&I War. Peter Mills, David's brother served in that company and died that year. (Probably killed in battle at Ticonderoga while serving under James Holmes.)

3. The name Dorcas is significant. None of the sisters of David Mills's Holmes or Mills ancestors were named Dorcas. So his daughter Dorcas was probably named from his wife Rebecca's side. Rebecca Holmes's sister was named Dorcas. This is not a common name.

4. Rebecca and Sarah Holmes, sisters of James Holmes, are the right age range and the Bedford Genealogies do not give their husband's names.

5. If Rebecca and Sarah were sisters, that would help explain the closeness of the families in NS since John and David Mills were apparently quite distantly related.

6. John Mills lived in Norwalk Conn and David Mills in Bedford before the Revolution. It is not known if there were any connections between their families there, but there easily could have been. James Holmes's mother was born in New Haven and James Holmes himself retired there during the last part of his life.

7. It seems probable that David Mills' wife Rebecca might have had strong loyalist ties. David Mills himself did not serve in the Revolution on either side. (Some of his uncles and cousins were active Patriots while his brother Reuben was apparently a Loyalist soldier.) He was able to sell his land in Bedford in 1791. What made him go to NS in 1785?

8. The fact that David Mills and Rebecca Holmes were 2nd cousins (And Jesse Mills and Martha Mills would be 1st cousins) helps rather than argues against the hypotheses since such marriages were very common in the Bedford Genealogies.

Of course this hardly proves the hypotheses that Rebecca and Sarah Holmes were the wives of David and John Mills. But the clues are very strong, and they give a strong reason to conduct any possible further research that might relate to this family. I would be interested in any details or scraps which either confirmed or contradicted this idea, or leads on the investigation of the Holmes Family. I noticed that in the BEDFORD GENEALOGIES Bibliography, Ronald B Reynolds of Katonah NY had a MMS collection relating to Holmes, Miller, Renolds and Seely Families. (I am also researching Millers and Seelys) I would like to see that but do not know about disturbing private persons.

- Born in Ireland of Scotch parentage. Was large landholder or renter from Lord Dufferin. Migrated to Nova Scotia in 1813 with family except two oldest children. Returned to Ireland on business in 1814 and died while there.¹

- David Nelson's wife was Elizabeth Hamilton Nelson.⁵⁵

- Dear Carol –

We received your letter today, so I thought I would try and answer right away. We can help you a little further on the Nelson & Hamilton lines. Don't know just how to start all this.

First I had better tell you just how my husband is related to the Nelson's & Hamilton's.

Ray's great-great-grandmother is Mary Hamilton Nelson, who is Eleanor H. Nelson's sister. Maybe you can figure out your relationship to Ray from that. I believe it would make you about 5th cousins. I may be wrong.

I will now put down what we found out about the Hamilton - Nelson line.

The following story was written by Mary Jane Read Chatterton. As far as I can figure out, this story was written between the years 1885 to 1890.

Hamilton – Nelson

In the early part of the 17th century David Hamilton, a resident of Scotland, loyal to the King, was ordered to take an active part in the quelling of the disturbance in Ireland and for his service rendered was given a large grant of land near Belfast, Ireland and created Earl of Clanbrassil. His son became Viscount of Clandeboye and in course of time the title became changed to Dufferin, but the estate still bears the name of Clandeboye.

The present owner, Frederick Hamilton, better known as Lord Dufferin, and his wife, Harriet Hamilton, are according to Grandmother Read's story, not only cousins, but lineal descendants of the oldest son of Viscount Clandeboye and her grandfather whose name was Hans Hamilton was the son of 2nd son of Viscount Clandeboye, and therefore had no claims upon either title or estate.

Elizabeth Hamilton, daughter of Hans Hamilton, married David Nelson, who belonged to a very old and highly respected family, also of Scotch descent but Irish birth. David Nelson was a large landholder and also acted in the capacity of overseer for the old Earl of Dufferin, but becoming dissatisfied, he concluded to try his fortune in the then new world, and accordingly came over and settled with his family in Nova Scotia, in year 1813.

His family were all born in Ireland, and if I remember rightly, on the Dufferin Estate. Their names were:

1. Jennie Nelson, married to man by name of Summerside, and she remained in Ireland, lived and died there.
2. Ursula Nelson, aged 3 years, born and died in Ireland.
3. Eleanor Nelson, married in Nova Scotia, to James Lumley, who moved shortly after to Iona, near St. Thomas, Ontario, where they settled on a farm, lived and died there.
4. Elizabeth Nelson, married in Nova Scotia to J. Hoag and resided in Nova Scotia with her family until death.
5. Margaret Ann Nelson, married in Nova Scotia, to Barnabas Mills, moved from Nova Scotia to Iona, Ont. and from there to farm near Wardsville, Ont. where she resided at time of death.
6. Mary Hamilton Nelson, married in Nova Scotia to Robert Colin Read in 1821. In 1824 they moved to Iona, where they lived until 1831, when they moved to the Township of Zone, near village of Florence, Ont. and from there in 1846 to "Little Mill Farm," River Road, Harwich Twp, near Chatham, Ont. where they resided up to time of their death.
- 7-8. Two sons, David and Hans Nelson, left Nova Scotia for the United States, but the mail system in those days being very imperfect, very little or nothing was ever heard of them.

David Nelson, the father, after getting his family fairly well settled in Nova Scotia, returned to Ireland to settle some business affairs in 1814 and while there was taken ill and died after a few weeks illness, at his daughter's Jenny Summerside. The mother, Elizabeth Hamilton Nelson, moved from Nova Scotia, with her daughter,

Eleanor Lumley, to Iona, where she resided until time of death and is buried near the little village of Iona, in Lumley Cemetery.¹¹⁹¹

- Died at the home of his daughter, Jenny Summerside, near Belfast, [County Down, Northern] Ireland.

Hans Hamilton

• The sons David and Hans Nelson left Nova Scotia for the United States; never heard of them again.⁵⁵

• Two sons, David and Hans Nelson, left Nova Scotia for the United States, but the mail system in those days being very imperfect, very little or nothing was ever heard of them.¹¹⁹¹

• The information on Hans Nelson came from the Cumberland Co. Estate Papers.

“Estate of Hans Hamilton Nelson, filed by 29 April 1840

Hans Hamilton Nelson of Ragged Reef on the South Joggins in Co. Cumberland March 1839 - to John Sinnet to going to Amherst for Doctor £ 0.10.0 L ,£ 0.15.0 Barronsfield, 27 April 1839.”³⁴⁴⁸

That is all that I found. It certainly sounds like the right family. I have no idea if he was married or not.²⁹⁹¹

• There was a hand-written pedigree chart in my family that says Hans Hamilton was the 8th of 9 children of Elizabeth Hamilton born before 1780 in Scotland, and David Nelson born about 1786 in county Fermagh or Fermanagh, Ireland. He and his brother David “went to the United States and nothing was ever heard of them.” He was my 2nd great uncle.⁶⁴⁰⁰

Hans/Hants HAMILTON^{1,8369}

Birth: abt 1745, Armagh, Northern Ireland⁸³⁶⁹
Removal1: by 1790, Cornwallis, Kings, Nova Scotia, Canada, age: 45⁸³⁶⁹
Residence: possibly near Amherst, Cumberland, Nova Scotia⁸³⁶⁹
Flags: Brick Wall, Earliest Immigrant
Father: William HAMILTON⁸³⁶⁹

- Reputed (family tradition) to be descended from the second son of Viscount Clandeboye.¹

- There seems to be absolutely no possibility that Hans Hamilton, father of Elizabeth, descended from the 1st or 2nd Earl of Clanbrassil of the first creation as otherwise these titles would surely have devolved upon him.⁶⁸⁸⁸

- Provincial records do not reveal many details about Hants after his arrival in Nova Scotia. It is believed he came with the family of his brother Robert. It is not known if his children came at the time or later.

His name is recorded in the Cornwallis, Kings County Poll Tax Record for 1791 where his property was Assessed and Taxed. This explains why the letter from his brother William in Ireland was readdressed to Cornwallis and therefore it was likely Hants who received the letter first.⁸³⁶⁹

- The old family manuscript, held in the family for many years and published in "A History of The House of Hamilton" (1933), records the following, "Hans, who accompanied his brother Robert to Nova Scotia and had issue:- (a) James. (b) John, who had issue a daughter, Mrs. Gorsham of Halifax, N.S., (c) Archibald, who migrated from Nova Scotia into Canada and had issue a son Christopher; (d/h) Five daughters. His name can be found among his male descendants for many generations."⁸³⁶⁹

- In 1790 a letter addressed to Robert and his brother Hants arrived from Ireland, giving news of family and asking if the prospects were good in Nova Scotia. There was no envelope, simply a folded letter addressed to William or Hants Hamilton, Halifax. It had been readdressed to Cornwallis. A large figure 8 marked on the backside indicated that the postage collected was 8 pence.

"Dear Brothers,

This comes to let you know that I am in good health, and my family at present, thanks to God. I hope that this will find you and families the same.

I will acquaint you that your sister Jane is dead, and her daughter, Nancy. Also your brother David. Your brother Archibald is in good health. You may let Esther know that her sister Simpson is dead, and her mother.

I had an account since you wrote, that you were all well. The rest of the _? and John Rowan are still in good health. I hope that you will write as soon as this comes to your hand, and please to tell us of the affairs of that country, and how you would advise my sons as they are thinking of going to it if you would send them any encouragement. Please let me know how John Hamilton's daughter is. The Fergusons are all well and they will write you. I have written you several times, but received no answer these two years. I have nothing more to inform you of, only that there has been some disturbances for these three years past between the Protestants and the Papists. Every means has been taken to settle them by gentle means, but cannot say that this has come to an end yet.

My wife and family all join with me in sending our best wishes.

Farewell, I am, Dear brother, your affectionate brother.

Research: • Burke's Irish Family Records; 941.5 D22 bur 1976.

- With regard to the Hamilton family it would probably be best for us to start with your known ancestry rather than attempt to deduce a pedigree from the Viscounts Clandeboye. In genealogical research one must always work backwards, proving each link, and any attempt to work "downwards" always fails.

You probably are aware the Clandeboye is an area in County Down and many Hamilton families settled in this county after 1600. Hans also, as a Christian name, was very popular in Co. Down and for both of these reasons it seems likely that your family may have originated in this County. However, I must point out that Hamilton is a very common surname in Ulster and is found literally in all 9 counties that compose the province.

You suggest that Hans Hamilton was born circa 1760 and his daughter Elizabeth married a David Nelson before 1813. The best starting point in this case would be for us to ascertain if any Hans Hamilton occurs on the 1796 Flax Premiums as a recipient of the concession of one free spinning wheel per 1/4 acre of flax cultivated. The linen industry (linen is produced from Flax) was very prominent in Ulster in 1796 and the returns can be used as a primitive census. If a Hans Hamilton is listed his parish of residence will be given. We could also compile a list of all those parishes in which both Hamilton and Nelson occur in common. Nelson is much rarer than Hamilton as a surname and thus might give us a good lead as to the families place of residence.

Another way forward would be for us to examine the Grantor's Index to the Registry of Deeds, circa 1810-1815, to see if David Nelson sold any leasehold or freehold land in Ireland prior to or soon after emigrating. If such deeds could be located they would give us information on his Irish address.

State Registration of marriages in Ireland only began in 1845. Prior to this date records were maintained by Parish and there are no master indices. We could, however, examine the Diocesan Marriage Licence Bonds for a Nelson/Hamilton marriage. If found this would at least narrow down the Diocese of research.³⁵³⁷

- Name given as Isaac. Lived in Ledyard, now [sic] Groton, Conn.¹
- Possibly from Westerly, R. I. - boundary dispute between R. I. & CT not settled until 1728.¹³⁹⁵

Research: • Look for in 1790

- 1800 Census: Groton, New London, Connecticut. 00010/00100. Perhaps the correct family; the only Isaac Williams in Groton, but he may be too young. Perhaps this is his son, Isaac.⁶³⁴⁹
- Perhaps Isaac is this Richard.⁷⁷³²

General: • Ledyard is a town in the southeastern part of Connecticut that, although it is predominantly rural in part, is rapidly becoming suburban in character. Bordered on the West by the Thames River with its gently rolling, tree covered hills and occasional outcroppings of ledge, it stretches off the east bordering Mystic and Stonington, and is approximately 40 square miles in area. Originally Pequot Indian territory, the first land grants to the early settlers were assigned as part of New London territory. In 1705, land on the eastern side of the Great (Pequot) River became the independent town of Groton within which the present boundaries of Ledyard exist. Early land records and legal transactions referred to this location as Groton until 1836, when the residents of this part of the North or Second Society of Groton incorporated and took the name of Ledyard. The town was named after Colonel William Ledyard, who was the commander of the Colonial forces that defended Fort Griswold in 1781 at the Battle of Groton Heights.²²¹¹

- This book is an attempt at the early family records of William Williams of New London, Conn., but is incomplete [since] many of the early records were destroyed by war and fire during the War of the Revolution, the Battle of Groton Heights, etc. Moreover, so many by the name of Williams came into New London County and settled at New London, Groton, Stonington, Norwich and Vicinity at about the same dates, several Families using the same names for their children, even in the same town, and especially as often no Family records were kept, it has been very difficult to collect the facts from descendants, or even to find many of them.

The author has worked on this problem for over 40 years. Some of the descendants of Robert Williams of Roxbury, Mass. came into Connecticut and settled at Stonington and Pomfret, Conn., and many other Connecticut Towns, and intermarried with descendants of William Williams of New London County. Wheeler's History of Stonington, Conn., gives descendants largely of Robert Williams of Roxbury.

Then after the War of the Revolution scores of descendants by the name of Williams removed to New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, New York State, the Western Reserve in Ohio, to Pennsylvania and even farther west.⁹⁴

- You already know that Daniel Walter married Mary A. Mayer in 1816. What I find most interesting about that marriage is that NO MAYER families appear in Columbiana County until much later in 1800's. Raises the question as to whether Mary A. Mayer was related to someone in Elk Run Township, with whom she resided, or if she worked for someone in that area when she met Daniel! The director of our local genealogy department, is a certified genealogist, who has published many books on Columbiana County genealogy, and I asked her about the Mayer surname and she said it is NOT a common Columbiana County name, but that it is sometimes spelled Myers and Myres and Meyers, which are the more common spelling.³⁴²⁹

- Surname given as MYER on Death Certificate of her daughter, Lydia.⁷⁴²⁰
- Name given as Mary Ann Myer(s).³⁴³³

- My friend, Carol Bell, has been doing some Elk Run Township research recently. I discussed your Mary A. Mayer problem with her. From her personal files, she came up with some interesting data that she gave to me to pass on to you as a gift.

She feels that the father of Mary A. Mayer is the Frederick Myers shown in School District #3 of Elk Run Township as of 1828. She said to tell you that she cannot prove that but as further evidence, she pulled the 1820 Census for Elk Run Township, page 58A, which shows:

Frederick Myers 1 male 26-45 (born ca 1775-94)

 1 female 26-45 (born ca 1775-94)

Mary Elizabeth

- Came over from Ireland on steamer in 1830 on which she caught smallpox.⁸
- While crossing from Ireland smallpox broke out in the steerage, and as Mary had eaten an apple given to her by a steerage passenger, she was the only cabin passenger who took it - so she, her aunt and mother stayed in quarantine on landing while the father went on. By wrapping each finger in rags, tying the hands behind her and constant vigilance with a switch in hand, she was saved a scar - this she always appreciated when she saw such disfigurements as many had, in those days, since scratching the scab does this. She always felt this smallpox was responsible for her excellent health, "fine blood" in later life.⁶
- Estelle's mother caught smallpox on steamer coming from Ireland – only one in 1st Class. Went down with the 2nd class where she caught it. Was put in quarantine and her mother & Aunt Lib [Elizabeth O'Brien, Mary's sister – DWM] staid [sic] with her while her father went on to Vermont & settled in Irish Grove.⁸

- Mary's first days in Vermont, she weaved, knitted, and went to school. When she took James for the first time he came home and said "That teacher has nothing to eat in her cupboard." The children used to blow out eggs, fill them with maple syrup, let them harden in the snow. One of these James wanted to take to the teacher "to make her sweeter."⁶

- Mr. and Mrs. John [sic] O'Brien and daughter, Mary, 3 years old, with Mrs. O'Brien's sister left Ireland for Vermont. Here James, Elizabeth, William, John, George [sic] were born – moved to Illinois to a farm outside of Freeport. Mary finished the village school, then lived with Mrs. Brewster, went to school in town, met and married at 16 George Henry [sic] Moore. (Mrs. B. gave her a fine trousseau and wedding – she had no children – Mama adored her). The first year of mama's married life she lost, first Mrs. Brewster, then her husband and mother – her first child was born one month after Mr. Moore's death. He was 21 – died of T.B. At 20 she married Mr. Clark. He was well connected. Clark Hubble, a nephew was head of pension dept. in Wash. His nephew Charlie Terrell a bright lawyer came across the plains with them.

Mr. Clarke provided well. He had a hardware business and was an expert locksmith. Against mama's wishes he sold his business, sewed $20 gold pieces around his belt (Mama said she never again saw so much gold), but he expected to 'pick it up' in California – this was '51. Emily was 3 when they started [this would date it abt 1854]. Mr. C. was captain of his train – 30 men and mama was the only woman. They came well equipped, so had no hardships of much importance. They found people dying of cholera – left water and food and went on. The wagons were closed into a circle each night, the Indians were not dreaded so much as the Mormons, and have heard Mama say: they landed in Sacramento with no deaths.⁶

Mama's first husband Mr. Moore died after ten months. A son was born, George Henry. It was with this son, her second husband Mr. Clarke and Emily 3 yrs. old that she crossed the plains – she was pregnant for May. They stopped off at Diamond Springs for this birth. Mr. Clarke died when Mama was 25. At 30 she married Frederick Walter – he was 32. He was very kind, too easy stepfather, both Emily and May told me. He was considered a rich man and all was rosy for a few years.⁶

She [Mary] considered Mrs. Brewster her best friend, appreciated always the privilege of living in a beautiful home with servants in contrast to the farm. Mary had brown hair, deep blue (Irish) eyes, cheeks like roses – a beautiful person (Aunt Lib told me) very gay – loved fun always. Like your mother she had little hands and feet – small waist. Mrs. B. [Brewster] didn't approve of anything as common as a circus – so when a widow at 17 – in a white dress and black silk shawl I still have, she attended her first circus with "Mr. Babcock" – cousin of Babcock in Vallejo. Lib now lived with her in town (Springfield) [sic] and was married from her home to Johnathan Hay whom Mama always loved. After many beaux Mama finally chose Mr. Clarke. Before she left the East she found that he had been untrue to her – (Aunt Lib cried just as your mother did when her sister (Anne) married.) Aunt Lib never liked Mr. C. Well, Mr. Clark was very penitent and hoped he was forgiven – but, imagine leaving all you friends, your sister, father, home, to go to a new country with George Henry (by her first husband, Moore). Emily, three and one "on the way" and the love killed. When Mr. Clark died in Sacramento of a lung "bursting" –

he said "Mary, you have never forgiven me." And she hadn't – but she was proud of his mind, felt he was a very clever man.⁶

Mama's mistake was in marrying Mr. Clark. There was a wild streak in the blood. You see Mr. C. was a widower, had buried a wife and daughter "Arzella." Mama expressed her opinion that a widow should marry a widower – she felt "one of these boys could not be such an understanding father." Emily Arzella was their first child. Mama earnestly believed she marked May – who was Mary Elizabeth till she changed her name herself while in the convent to "May Josephine." While Mary was a widow the first time she had many beaux – one, the minister's son whom Aunt Lib wanted her to marry. At a dance he passed her a candy heart on which was printed "So fair, yet so deceiving." This I think always hurt a little when she repeated it. Mama loved poetry – Moore's she practically knew from cover to cover. She knew her English and French history – admired Queen Victoria; knew just whom each of her eight children married and where they were, etc. Queen V. was like a relative – yet, she was always hoping she could live to "see" Ireland free!⁶

In Sacramento, when Mr. Clark died leaving her with George Henry and his three children, for Frank was a nursing baby, he left her a business, a two story house, located where the Capitol now stands. To save a baby's life she took a new born baby whose mother died of T.B. and nursed and cared for it. The father was a rich mining man. Mama loved this child, brought him up to be a healthy child – then his father married again and took him. For this Mama got $75.00 a month (plenty to keep her going in those days). Soon she began to sing in the church choir. Here she met Fred Walter, a widower twice.⁶

- Mama loved her new home [in Vallejo]. She had the largest parlors in town - two marble mantles and a bathroom. Papa thought it crazy to get such a big house - ten rooms (she added an eleventh later).⁶

Vallejo, April 29, 1894

My dear Estelle –

I am very tired this evening but I must write to my baby. Mabel and Mr. Halsey came over to spend the day and I had all the family except Dora - she is in Oakland today with Dr. Burk. She is not entirely well yet. I had chicken and ice cream. Mr. Halsey said I had a fine dinner, green peas, mashed potatoes, salad, so you see I am tired. The house is looking very well for me, if you were here it would be better. The yard is loaded with flowers more than ever before but I don't get time to gather and make bouquets of fill the vases which is a great addition to a room. I will try this week to have some flowers in the house.

The babies are both well now, Miriam has two back teeth and more coming. Emily's folks are are well. I received your last two letters, also the money. I put twenty with it and it is in the Bank in your name so you will be getting a few cents interest. Keep on. The best of all is to hear your health is good and you are happy. They are playing croquet at Alice's this evening. Lilly was here after the balls – the Damuth girls and a young lady friend, a very pretty girl cousin of theirs. I have not seen any of the Fountains since you were here. Am glad Alice [Fountain] is doing so well. It won't be long before your school is out. Well I will close by wishing you good night and God Bless you.

From your ever loving Mother,
Mary Walter⁶

- I [Elizabeth O'Brien Hay] rec'd a letter from Aunt Mary yesterday. She said when she received my instructions about travel, she laughed. Said Mr. Walters discouraged her and told her she was no traveler & now she reads how cold it is here, she is glad she did not come. And she can't come in summer because she is afraid of lightning. Bless her heart, she does well to stay at home but she is determined that I shall go there to live. She has $30.00 a month to spend as she likes now so we would have a good time. She thinks it so hard with two children and they so far from me.

I should feel the same about her. I know but I am used to more than she.⁶²⁸³

My dear Estelle –

I cannot stand this anxiety any longer. I have no heart or courage to ask a question. My heart is like ice and no one to speak to about it as I am alone and strangers cannot understand. So I just keep the sorrow and anxiety to myself. Do please write, you dear girl.

Your loving Aunt,

Elizabeth Hay

Note by Amy Estelle Eckart:

Written when Mama was dying. Elizabeth Hay was Mama's only sister (my only Aunt).⁶

- Letter by Amy Estelle Walter Eckart:

An incident:

When Mary and Mr. W[alter] got acquainted, comparing notes, they found they had crossed the plains at the same time. Made camp so close one time Mr. Walter hears there were a woman and two children in the Clark camp. So he sent two men over with a bucket of milk (he had brought along a milk cow) for the children. Mr. Clark met them and poured the milk on the ground – afraid to expose any of them to the dreaded cholera. Mr. W. saw this from afar and was very angry. This they both remembered. There were no women in the Walters' camp. He often said it was the happiest year of his life. Mary said it was an awful nightmare. They passed men dying of cholera along the trail; they left water and food, and passed on.

Mary always bragged of her "good, healthy Irish inheritance"; she never had a stitch taken nor any operations of any kind, was never examined by a doctor. With the care we get, who knows, she might have lived ten years longer.

Her mother, a devout Roman Catholic; all the children, Protestants.

When Mary was a widow [from her first husband], to please her mother she brought her baby home to be christened – the village priest started in to criticize his curls, his silly gown, etc., her family. Then he said "I suppose you think you are married; who was the man? Some horse thief?" Mary said "Don't you dare touch my child." Her mother fell on her knees and prayed aloud; her father took her part so he was not christened, Mary said (Mary was married each time by a Presbyterian minister).

When Alice [Walter] favored the Episcopal church – since she played the organ there, she pulled us all to that church. When Mary was dying, she requested a communion in her bed. We all gathered and Mr. Ballard brought it from the altar. The next day she sank in a coma, died on _____. We were all comforted by the fact that her wish had been satisfied. She said "when she was on her deathbed my mother would say 'Thy will be done.' I say 'Thy will be done if I can't help myself for I would like to live ten years more.” She talked of Mr. Moore and May – had perfect faith that she would meet them.

She was a high strung racehorse tied to a good truck horse when married to Mr. Walter – always pulling apart. She, so ambitious for her children, ready to work for their welfare; cooking for boarders so she could pay $4.00 per yard for Anne and Alice’s dresses; to pay for Alice’s music in S.F. and Anne’s singing lessons. She loved music and craved it and was so proud of Alice’s ability.

Since Alice was my teacher, I didn’t get far, and Mama always regretted this; felt I didn’t get a right start. But she had to save when she could.

When Alice taught South, we wrote regularly. She sent me $5.00 a month with which I took music lessons of dear L____. Alice and I were very much alike; it was our marriages that made us grow so far apart. I was always very proud of my sister Alice; I wasn’t so sure of Anne. She was kind, but I felt she was coarser – her laugh always embarrassed me. I was a very proud child and suffered more than anyone could know; Alice was too.

When Anne at 18 was visiting in Oakland for weeks once, Alice and I slept together. We’re so fond on one another, I found myself wishing that Anne would stay in Oakland, for when she returned I would go back to my room and be just a “nuisance” again.

It is time for lunch. Dear Will is here.

Love,

Aunt Stell⁶

General: • In '52 the migration surged to a new height of 52,000. The year was also notable for a sharp increase in the numbers of women and children. Of people passing Fort Kearny, women comprised 13 per cent; children, 17 per cent.

There was no simple reason for this huge migration, and even contemporaries could not explain it. It was not a gold rush. By this time, however, California was known as a rapidly developing state, with much good land and many jobs at high wages. The return of many forty-niners with their families also helped to swell the total.³¹¹⁷

- Being a crowded year, '52 somewhat resembled '49 and '50. Again, there was some cholera. In August a California newspaper reported, "The same old melancholy story of privation and suffering." Again, a relief expedition was sent out as far as Humboldt Sink, where its leader recorded "great suffering." He sent back a request for more supplies—especially, pickles! He declared, "the women and children are all anxious to have them."

Yet, everything considered, the migration of '52 was comparatively prosperous. Once more the weather had been favorable, and a returning forty-niner reported the grazing as better even than it had been in '49. Although some diarists noted shortage of grass, the hordes of animals got through in some fashion. Probably by this time people had learned better where additional pasturage might be found in places back from the trail. The sheep would not have caused so much difficulty, since they could eat certain desert plants that the cattle would not use.³¹¹⁷

- Source 3211 proves the relationship between the WALTER family of California and the LAWRENCE family of Springfield, Missouri.³²¹¹
- Mining engineer; Harvard graduate.⁸
- She left Mr. A. who many years older than she for her real love Willis Lawrence. He was a civil engineer - the most gentle, kindly man I ever knew. If you have a pin a fan on a bar, with colored quartz - that Willis gave Alice when she was in high school.⁶
- Willis Lawrence was a faro dealer and book maker. He came from a very fine family and was a man of fine character. He died while I was in Missouri and left an estate of $55,000 which he divided among about 40 people. Zena knew three girls to which he gave $500.00 each, people that had been kind to him during his sickness.³²¹¹
- Willis Lawrence, a former husband of Mrs. Fladung, testified that he taught her to shoot in Arizona, and that she became very expert with a pistol.⁷⁸⁹⁸

- ...who now [1899] resides in California.⁸²³⁸
- As a young man, Willis Lawrence left his job as a telegrapher to go to the Arizona gold fields. There he was a prospector and teamster, and there, his friends said, he made money. There, also, he contracted the beginnings of the rheumatism which made him a cripple the last 30 years of his life.

Shortly after Lawrence returned here [Springfield] to settle down after a life of wandering, his mother, Mrs. Sarah C. Lawrence fell and broke her shoulder. A neighbor, who came in to clean the house for her, found $30,000 in unregistered bonds in a dresser drawer. At his mother's death in 1927, Lawrence inherited most of her $29,961.69 fortune.

Neighbors called the aged cripple "the most generous man we ever knew." He gave freely of his money to beggars and needy persons, they said—so freely that his friends feared he would give all of it away. During the depression, he tided over many a friend, and was a source of ready cash during the bank holiday in the spring of 1933.

Tired of the continual pain he suffered, Lawrence a few weeks ago, prepared to die. He made a long list of relatives—26 first and second cousins—and friends scattered over the nation, and to each of the 41 people he finally included in the list, he left a substantial sum in cash. Last night, he ended his own life with a revolver in his room here.⁸²⁴⁶

- Willis Lawrence came to Springfield with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence, from Montpelier, Vt., when he was just a boy, in 1867. He didn't have much formal education. He learned telegraphy, and was a railroad telegrapher here for several years. Then, while he was still a young man, he pulled out for the gold fields in Arizona. There he drove a team. He was out there a "long time," his friends said. He made some money.

He came back to Springfield and established a home here. For several years he traveled. He made good investments during these years. Finally, in 1923, he settled in Springfield. The years he spent in the gold fields, however, began to tell on him 30 years ago. Rheumatism bothered him increasingly. Finally he had to use crutches to get around.⁸²⁴⁶

Person Sheets

- Manager Willis Lawrence has introduced a number of improvements in methods of operating and is achieving excellent results. [Presumably the same Willis Lawrence]⁸²⁴⁹

- Mrs. [George] Lawrence died without will, but the court appointed Willis Lawrence, who was the sole heir. He was administrator of the estate and had to make a rather large bond. This he did through a bonding company and had to pay quite a fee. Mrs. Lawrence might have avoided that expense if she had made a will. Willis Lawrence may have made some money in the west but he also inherited the Lawrence fortune. He seemed to be a careful, close sort of a man inclined to deny himself many things in life until his later days when he became extremely liberal and aided many a poor and deserving person through his generosity. The Lawrence family were a substantial trio, who had always been well off, honest, and considerate of others.⁸²⁴⁷

My dear Estelle –

I am very tired this evening but I must write to my baby. Mabel and Mr. Halsey came over to spend the day and I had all the family except Dora - she is in Oakland today with Dr. Burk. She is not entirely well yet. I had chicken and ice cream. Mr. Halsey said I had a fine dinner, green peas, mashed potatoes, salad, so you see I am tired. The house is looking very well for me, if you were here it would be better. The yard is loaded with flowers more than ever before but I don't get time to gather and make bouquets of fill the vases which is a great addition to a room. I will try this week to have some flowers in the house.

The babies are both well now, Miriam has two back teeth and more coming. Emily's folks are are well. I received your last two letters, also the money. I put twenty with it and it is in the Bank in your name so you will be getting a few cents interest. Keep on. The best of all is to hear your health is good and you are happy. They are playing croquet at Alice's this evening. Lilly was here after the balls – the Damuth girls and a young lady friend, a very pretty girl cousin of theirs. I have not seen any of the Fountains since you were here. Am glad Alice [Fountain] is doing so well. It won't be long before your school is out. Well I will close by wishing you good night and God Bless you.

From your ever loving Mother,

Mary Walter⁶

- I [Elizabeth O'Brien Hay] rec'd a letter from Aunt Mary yesterday. She said when she received my instructions about travel, she laughed. Said Mr. Walters discouraged her and told her she was no traveler & now she reads how cold it is here, she is glad she did not come. And she can't come in summer because she is afraid of lightning. Bless her heart, she does well to stay at home but she is determined that I shall go there to live. She has $30.00 a month to spend as she likes now so we would have a good time. She thinks it so hard with two children and they so far from me.

I should feel the same about her. I know but I am used to more than she.⁶²⁸³

My dear Estelle –

I cannot stand this anxiety any longer. I have no heart or courage to ask a question. My heart is like ice and no one to speak to about it as I am alone and strangers cannot understand. So I just keep the sorrow and anxiety to myself. Do please write, you dear girl.

Your loving Aunt,

Elizabeth Hay

- Letter by Amy Estelle Walter Eckart:

An incident:

When Mary and Mr. W[alter] got acquainted, comparing notes, they found they had crossed the plains at the same time. Made camp so close one time Mr. Walter hears there were a woman and two children in the Clark camp. So he sent two men over with a bucket of milk (he had brought along a milk cow) for the children. Mr. Clark met them and poured the milk on the ground – afraid to expose any of them to the dreaded cholera. Mr. W. saw this from afar and was very angry. This they both remembered. There were no women in the Walters' camp. He often said it was the happiest year of his life. Mary said it was an awful nightmare. They passed men dying of cholera along the trail; they left water and food, and passed on.

Mary always bragged of her "good, healthy Irish inheritance"; she never had a stitch taken nor any operations of any kind, was never examined by a doctor. With the care we get, who knows, she might have lived ten years longer.

Her mother, a devout Roman Catholic; all the children, Protestants.

When Mary was a widow [from her first husband], to please her mother she brought her baby home to be christened – the village priest started in to criticize his curls, his silly gown, etc., her family. Then he said “I suppose you think you are married; who was the man? Some horse thief?” Mary said “Don’t you dare touch my child.” Her mother fell on her knees and prayed aloud; her father took her part so he was not christened, Mary said (Mary was married each time by a Presbyterian minister).

When Alice [Walter] favored the Episcopal church – since she played the organ there, she pulled us all to that church. When Mary was dying, she requested a communion in her bed. We all gathered and Mr. Ballard brought it from the altar. The next day she sank in a coma, died on _____. We were all comforted by the fact that her wish had been satisfied. She said “when she was on her deathbed my mother would say ‘Thy will be done.’ I say ‘Thy will be done if I can’t help myself for I would like to live ten years more.’” She talked of Mr. Moore and May – had perfect faith that she would meet them.

She was a high strung racehorse tied to a good truck horse when married to Mr. Walter – always pulling apart. She, so ambitious for her children, ready to work for their welfare; cooking for boarders so she could pay $4.00 per yard for Anne and Alice’s dresses; to pay for Alice’s music in S.F. and Anne’s singing lessons. She loved music and craved it and was so proud of Alice’s ability.

Since Alice was my teacher, I didn’t get far, and Mama always regretted this; felt I didn’t get a right start. But she had to save when she could.

When Alice taught South, we wrote regularly. She sent me $5.00 a month with which I took music lessons of dear L____. Alice and I were very much alike; it was our marriages that made us grow so far apart. I was always very proud of my sister Alice; I wasn’t so sure of Anne. She was kind, but I felt she was coarser – her laugh always embarrassed me. I was a very proud child and suffered more than anyone could know; Alice was too.

When Anne at 18 was visiting in Oakland for weeks once, Alice and I slept together. We’re so fond of one another, I found myself wishing that Anne would stay in Oakland, for when she returned I would go back to my room and be just a "nuisance" again.

It is time for lunch. Dear Will is here.

Love,

Aunt Stell⁶

General: • In '52 the migration surged to a new height of 52,000. The year was also notable for a sharp increase in the numbers of women and children. Of people passing Fort Kearny, women comprised 13 per cent; children, 17 per cent.

There was no simple reason for this huge migration, and even contemporaries could not explain it. It was not a gold rush. By this time, however, California was known as a rapidly developing state, with much good land and many jobs at high wages. The return of many forty-niners with their families also helped to swell the total.³¹¹⁷

- Being a crowded year, '52 somewhat resembled '49 and '50. Again, there was some cholera. In August a California newspaper reported, "The same old melancholy story of privation and suffering." Again, a relief expedition was sent out as far as Humboldt Sink, where its leader recorded "great suffering." He sent back a request for more supplies—especially, pickles! He declared, "the women and children are all anxious to have them."

Yet, everything considered, the migration of '52 was comparatively prosperous.

Once more the weather had been favorable, and a returning forty-niner reported the grazing as better even than it had been in '49. Although some diarists noted shortage of grass, the hordes of animals got through in some fashion. Probably by this time people had learned better where additional pasturage might be found in places back from the trail. The sheep would not have caused so much difficulty, since they could eat certain desert plants that the cattle would not use.³¹¹⁷

- Crossed the plains to California in 1851.⁸
- Emily had a fine mind and was lovely to look at - taught school in Sacramento was very musical - disappointed her mother when she married a R.R. Engineer. When Mr. Martin asked for her hand Mama said "I didn't raise my girl to cook and work for any man." Mr. Martin repeated that in my presence. Emily had a beautiful hand and Mama never asked her to soil it. Emily was a great church goer - very straight laced - but her love of money was her chief fault and her very sarcastic tongue. When visiting her she was the best hostess - always happy.⁶
- When May left him [Mr. Amy] she went to Emily's in Carson [City?] and Mama always blamed Emily's envy for most of this trouble. She called him the "the frog-eater, etc." Envious because May had more than she. Yet May shared with her most generously. Maude's baby clothes were all convent-made. Emily's babies were all so dear to May.⁶
- Mrs. Emily Martin, sister of the deceased, told a very damaging tale against Fladung, accusing him of being continually drunk and disgracefully cruel to his wife. time and again, even while his wife was sick in bed, she had seen him strike her in the face and beat her.

Mrs. Martin, when asked about her sister's life previous to her marriage with Fladung, said she fully supposed she was married to the man she was living with. May had shown her their marriage certificate, and she fully supposed it was genuine. She had heard that her sister had been mixed up in a shooting scrape while living with this man down in Arizona but knew nothing about the facts otherwise.⁷⁵²⁰

- She left Willis for the German she said, and I believe it, so she could once more have a home for her sisters to come to.⁶

- Fladung is one of the largest contractors. He is a German and about forty years of age. Police Sergeant Williams [said he] has little hopes of his recovery.

Fladung was booked at the Central Station on a charge [of] murder. In conversation with Police Surgeon Wittman he said that his wife had shot him and then shot herself. He further charged her with having struck him with a bottle last Saturday.⁷⁵²⁴

- Murder and Suicide.

San Francisco, May 19.—Edward Fladung, a German laborer, 35 years of age, shot and instantly killed his wife, May, aged 34 years, this evening. He then shot himself, inflicting a wound that will probably prove fatal. From a letter found on Fladung it appears that he and his wife had a quarrel Saturday, and that this morning she sent him a letter, saying that she meant to leave him and move with her furniture to 326 Ellis street. Fladung went to that address in a rage, and the tragedy ensued.⁷⁵²²

Clearing Away the Mystery Surrounding a Tragedy Enacted in an Ellis-Street

Residence – Footprints in Blood

[excerpts]

Witnesses with theories, a blood-stained pair of shoes, the translation of a letter which had been found torn in a hundred pieces, and Dr. Frederick W. Von Buelow were the central figures in the examination of Edward Fladung, charged with the murder of his wife, before Judge Rix in Police Court No. 1 yesterday afternoon.

From the time Edward Fladung, while stretched on the operating table at the City Receiving Hospital, gasped, "My wife shot me; I forgive her," up to the present, theories of the tragedy which occurred on the 19th of May last, resulting in the death of Mrs. May Fladung and the almost fatal wounding of Edward Fladung, her husband, have been formed...⁸²⁶³

- FLADUNG ON TRIAL

Edward Fladung is on trial before a jury and Judge Shafter charged with the murder of his wife on May 19th last at their lodging on Eddy street. They had been married less than one year and quarreled continually. Much of the testimony in the hearing of the case before the Coroner and the Police Magistrate went to show Fladung was very intemperate and abused his wife cruelly. It also appeared that she had lived many years before meeting Fladung as the wife of a gambler.⁷⁵²⁰

- HE DID NOT KILL HER

Edward Fladung Declared Guiltless of His Wife's Death

The Jury Out But A Moment

The jury before whom Edward Fladung has been on trial for the murder of his wife, Mary Fladung, yesterday afternoon acquitted him on the first ballot, not being absent from the courtroom more than five minutes.

The chief interest of the day centered in the testimony of the defendant himself, who related in an apparently frank way the circumstances leading up to the moment of the tragedy. He described at length the first accidental meeting in Los Angeles, their hasty marriage, and the quarrels which almost immediately ensued between them owing to her tendency to drink and to keep improper hours.

On one occasion, when he refused to get her some cigarettes at night, she scratched his face and he kicked her out of doors.

The witness then, with some appearance of emotion, described the events of the fatal 19th of May.

"I had intended going to San Rafael that day," he said, "but missed the boat, and returned to our room at 508 Eddy street. My wife was not there, so I went out to lunch, and returned at 4 o'clock. I found she had been back in my absence and left behind her a handkerchief, four cartridges and a note. I went after her to 326 Ellis street, where I knew she had wanted to take rooms. In fact, we had quarreled about it before.

"Why," I asked her, when we met, 'have you come here?'

"She answered, "I don't care for you."

"Then I remembered she had taken my pistol away with her and I asked:

"Why did you take my pistol out of my pocket?"

"As I spoke I placed my hat on a chair, and it fell to the floor. I stooped down to pick it up and as I did so I heard her say: "Here is your pistol."

"The next instant there was a shot, and after that I remember nothing more until I regained consciousness and found myself in the hospital."

Mrs. Carrie Taylor, Mrs. Louise Taylor and Mrs. Phoebe Coffin testified to the drunkenness and violent temper of the deceased.

The defendant showed no emotion when acquitted, but quietly thanked the jury, as did the counsel, George Knight. Judge Shafter also seemed very well satisfied with the verdict.⁷⁵²¹

Mary Elizabeth

- Came over from Ireland on steamer in 1830 on which she caught smallpox.⁸

- While crossing from Ireland smallpox broke out in the steerage, and as Mary had eaten an apple given to her by a steerage passenger, she was the only cabin passenger who took it - so she, her aunt and mother stayed in quarantine on landing while the father went on. By wrapping each finger in rags, tying the hands behind her and constant vigilance with a switch in hand, she was saved a scar - this she always appreciated when she saw such disfigurements as many had, in those days, since scratching the scab does this. She always felt this smallpox was responsible for her excellent health, "fine blood" in later life.⁶

- Estelle's mother caught smallpox on steamer coming from Ireland – only one in 1st Class. Went down with the 2nd class where she caught it. Was put in quarantine and her mother & Aunt Lib [Elizabeth O'Brien, Mary's sister – DWM] staid [sic] with her while her father went on to Vermont & settled in Irish Grove.⁸

- Mary's first days in Vermont, she weaved, knitted, and went to school. When she took James for the first time he came home and said "That teacher has nothing to eat in her cupboard." The children used to blow out eggs, fill them with maple syrup, let them harden in the snow. One of these James wanted to take to the teacher "to make her sweeter."⁶

Presbyterian Church — Early in 1844, the Rev. Elisha Hazzard came into the neighborhood of where Lena now is and commenced a missionary work, and in June of the same year, established what was then known as Waddams Grove Presbyterian Church.⁸⁹

- Mr. and Mrs. John [sic] O'Brien and daughter, Mary, 3 years old, with Mrs. O'Brien's sister left Ireland for Vermont. Here James, Elizabeth, William, John, George [sic] were born – moved to Illinois to a farm outside of Freeport. Mary finished the village school, then lived with Mrs. Brewster, went to school in town, met and married at 16 George Henry [sic] Moore. (Mrs. B. gave her a fine trousseau and wedding – she had no children – Mama adored her). The first year of mama's married life she lost, first Mrs. Brewster, then her husband and mother – her first child was born one month after Mr. Moore's death. He was 21 – died of T.B. At 20 she married Mr. Clark. He was well connected. Clark Hubble, a nephew was head of pension dept. in Wash. His nephew Charlie Terrell a bright lawyer came across the plains with them.

Mr. Clarke provided well. He had a hardware business and was an expert locksmith. Against mama's wishes he sold his business, sewed $20 gold pieces around his belt (Mama said she never again saw so much gold), but he expected to 'pick it up' in California – this was '51. Emily was 3 when they started [this would date it abt 1854]. Mr. C. was captain of his train – 30 men and mama was the only woman. They came well equipped, so had no hardships of much importance. They found people dying of cholera – left water and food and went on. The wagons were closed into a circle each night, the Indians were not dreaded so much as the Mormons, and have heard Mama say: they landed in Sacramento with no deaths.⁶

Mama's first husband Mr. Moore died after ten months. A son was born, George Henry. It was with this son, her second husband Mr. Clarke and Emily 3 yrs. old that she crossed the plains – she was pregnant for May. They stopped off at Diamond Springs for this birth. Mr. Clarke died when Mama was 25. At 30 she married Frederick Walter – he was 32. He was very kind, too easy stepfather, both Emily and May told me. He was considered a rich man and all was rosy for a few years.⁶

She [Mary] considered Mrs. Brewster her best friend, appreciated always the privilege of living in a beautiful home with servants in contrast to the farm. Mary had brown hair, deep blue (Irish) eyes, cheeks like roses – a beautiful person (Aunt Lib told me) very gay – loved fun always. Like your mother she had little hands and feet – small waist. Mrs. B. [Brewster] didn't approve of anything as common as a circus – so when a widow at 17 – in a white dress and black silk shawl I still have, she attended her first circus with "Mr. Babcock" – cousin of Babcock in Vallejo. Lib now lived with her in town (Springfield) [sic] and was married from her home to Johnathan Hay whom Mama always loved. After many beaux Mama finally chose Mr. Clarke. Before she left the East she found that he had been untrue to her – (Aunt Lib cried just as your mother did when her sister (Anne) married.) Aunt Lib never liked Mr. C. Well, Mr. Clark was very penitent and hoped he was forgiven – but, imagine leaving all you friends, your sister, father, home, to go to a new country with George Henry (by her first husband, Moore). Emily, three and one "on the way" and the love killed. When Mr. Clark died in Sacramento of a lung "bursting" – he said "Mary, you have never forgiven me." And she hadn't – but she was proud of his mind, felt he was a very clever man.⁶

Mama's mistake was in marrying Mr. Clark. There was a wild streak in the blood. You see Mr. C. was a widower, had buried a wife and daughter "Arzella." Mama expressed her opinion that a widow should marry a widower – she felt "one of these boys could not be such an understanding father." Emily Arzella was their first child. Mama earnestly believed she marked May – who was Mary Elizabeth till she changed her name herself while in the convent to "May Josephine." While Mary was a widow the first time she had many beaux – one, the minister's son whom Aunt Lib wanted her to marry. At a dance he passed her a candy heart on which was printed "So fair, yet so deceiving." This I think always hurt a little when she repeated it. Mama loved poetry – Moore's she practically knew from cover to cover. She knew her English and French history – admired Queen Victoria; knew just whom each of her eight children married and where they were, etc. Queen V. was like a relative – yet, she was always hoping she could live to "see" Ireland free!⁶

In Sacramento, when Mr. Clark died leaving her with George Henry and his three children, for Frank was a nursing baby, he left her a business, a two story house, located where the Capitol now stands. To save a baby's life she took a new born baby whose mother died of T.B. and nursed and cared for it. The father was a rich mining man. Mama loved this child, brought him up to be a healthy child – then his father married again and took him. For this Mama got $75.00 a month (plenty to keep her going in those days). Soon she began to sing in the church choir. Here she met Fred Walter, a widower twice.⁶

- Mama loved her new home [in Vallejo]. She had the largest parlors in town - two marble mantles and a bathroom. Papa thought it crazy to get such a big house - ten rooms (she added an eleventh later).⁶

General: • In '52 the migration surged to a new height of 52,000. The year was also notable for a sharp increase in the numbers of women and children. Of people passing Fort Kearny, women comprised 13 per cent; children, 17 per cent.

There was no simple reason for this huge migration, and even contemporaries could not explain it. It was not a gold rush. By this time, however, California was known as a rapidly developing state, with much good land and many jobs at high wages. The return of many forty-niners with their families also helped to swell the total.³¹¹⁷

- Being a crowded year, '52 somewhat resembled '49 and '50. Again, there was some cholera. In August a California newspaper reported, "The same old melancholy story of privation and suffering." Again, a relief expedition was sent out as far as Humboldt Sink, where its leader recorded "great suffering." He sent back a request for more supplies—especially, pickles! He declared, "the women and children are all anxious to have them."

Yet, everything considered, the migration of '52 was comparatively prosperous.

Once more the weather had been favorable, and a returning forty-niner reported the grazing as better even than it had been in '49. Although some diarists noted shortage of grass, the hordes of animals got through in some fashion. Probably by this time people had learned better where additional pasturage might be found in places back from the trail. The sheep would not have caused so much difficulty, since they could eat certain desert plants that the cattle would not use.³¹¹⁷

- I could not find any reference to a burial place for Miles O'Brian and his wife, but there are many old stones that have crumbled or are unreadable in Freeport area cemeteries. I feel certain that they are buried out there somewhere. I found his property: it is located on the east side of North Eggert Road, north of Illinois Highway 75 East, in Rock City, Illinois, 61070. (just a few miles from the Wisconsin border.) The land looks luscious, with undulating hills, and very few trees.⁶¹⁵⁰

- I'm sending you an article from the Freeport newspaper from August 21, 1922, that says the first meetings of the St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Irish Grove were conducted at the house of Miles O'Brien.⁶²¹⁰

- The history of St. Patrick's church of Irish Grove begins with the first celebration of the Mass in 1841 by the Rev. Father Petiot in the house of Miles O'Brien, for Catholics who had settled in that region. The O'Brien homestead afterward became better known as the James Spellman home.⁶²¹²

General: • I just finished reading a 25-page article entitled "Pre-Famine Irish in Vermont, 1815-1844" by Vincent Feeney. Here are some highlights:

1) Following the French Revolution, Irish agriculture culture collapsed, as the troops didn't need to be fed. Irish soldiers in Britain's army were sent home to a weakened economy. Recurring outbreaks of smallpox, typhus and cholera, periodic potato crop failures and political tensions made life hard.

2) Since Britain imposed a tax on passage to the USA, Irish could travel to Canada for much less than to Boston or Philadelphia or New York. The ships returned to England with Canadian timber. Thus, from 1816 to 1836, the majority of immigrants from Ireland landed in 1.) Maritime Provinces, 2.) Quebec, 3.) Montreal.

3) From Montreal, an immigrant could travel across the St. Lawrence River to LaPrarie, and take a coach 15 miles to St. Jean-sur-Richelieu on the Richelieu River. (Later, beginning in 1836, there was a train to take.) St. Jeans was the northern connection connecting Canada to the Lake Champlain ports of Burlington, Plattsburg and Whitehall. Steamboats traveled every second day from St. Jean-sur-Richelieu to Burlington.

I think the family would have traveled from Ireland in the spring, but more likely the spring of 1831, rather than 1830, when the child was not so tiny and the mother still nursing.⁶¹⁶¹

• The first organization of the Catholic Church of Burlington and of Chittenden county took place in 1830, when Rev. Jeremiah O'Callaghan, a native of the county Cork, and a priest of the Diocese of Cloyne, Ireland, was sent by Bishop Fenwick, of Boston, to this place. Rev. Mr. O'Callaghan commenced the erection of a church on this property (land now known as Mt. St. Joseph's Cemetery) in 1832. This building was destroyed by incendiaries it is believed, in 1838. It was attended by all the Catholics not only of Burlington, but of the surrounding country, both Irish and French Canadians, who formed the bulk of, if not the entire Catholic population.⁶²¹³

- "'Irish Grove,' in Rock Run Township, and 'Dublin' in the Township of Erin, were sprouting into significance as the Celtic residents of both places made improvements and cultivated the graces of peace, supplemented by a moderate degree of prosperity. Too much cannot be said of the Irish residents of Stephenson County. None are dependent, while many of them own and cultivate large farms, and all are industrious, law-abiding and reputable citizens.

"The arrivals this year (1837) included, among others: Joseph Musser, Isaac Devely, Thomas and Samuel Chambers, William Wallace, a Mr. Moore, Joseph Osborn, Daniel Guyer, Pat Giblin, Miles O'Brien, a man named Corcoran..."⁸⁹

- ROCK RUN TOWNSHIP

"The Mullarkeys, with Thomas Foley and one or two others, who came during the previous year, opened farms about two miles south of the present town on Davis, where they established a settlement, that has long been known as 'Irish Grove,' from the large number of Celts who followed in the wake of those who came in 1836. The following year, Pat Giblin, Miles O'Brien, a man named Corcoran, who subsequently removed to Rockford, were included in the roster of inhabitants gathered at Irish Grove."⁸⁹

Note: Patrick Giblin is witness to the parental permission statement of Miles O'Brien and Mary Curley for marriage of Mary O'Brien to George Moore in 1846.

- St. Patrick's Irish Grove

The first Catholic Church at Irish Grove was built in 1838.⁶²¹¹

The cemetery of St. Patrick's lies on either side of the church, the old section to the south, the new to the north. Many of the early settlers were buried here but their resting places were never marked.⁶²¹¹

George F.

- George F. Peck was born in Vermont, in 1802. In 1824 he married Eliza Page, of Sweden, Monroe county, by whom he had five children, four of whom are living. His second wife, who, as his widow, survives him, was Miss Philinda Hamlin, whose parents came from Vermont to Warsaw in 1814. By this marriage one daughter was born to him. Mr. Peck was the owner of a farm of ninety acres in Castile, where he came in 1841, from Sweden, Monroe county, and died in 1861. He early identified himself with the Methodist church, of which his widow is a devout member.⁷⁶⁷¹

- Jane married at 16 – a man as old as her father – a kind man who was in the S. F. mint.⁶

- Watchman at U. S. Mint in San Francisco.⁴¹⁰

- At the age of fifteen she married a man fifty-eight years old. This man's name was David B. Hughes. He was probably born around 1807 but I don't know where.⁶¹⁷⁷

- Great Grandfather Hughes came from St. Louis. He had been married twice previously and had two grown sons, Cicero and William. They were bankers in St. Louis. For some reason Grandfather Hughes went to San Francisco where he met Jennie. This was probably in the middle 1860's. Mr. Hughes was a paving contractor, and he was awarded the contract for cobblestoning the streets of San Francisco, which was growing rapidly at that time. His men also built Lotta's Fountain, a stone monument that still stands at the foot of Market Street. This fountain was erected as a tribute from the People of San Francisco to the famous singer and dancer, Lotta Crabtree, who got her start as a child entertainer in the gold mining camps.

Great Grandfather and Grandmother Hughes had several children. Among them was my grandmother, Alvilda (Dolly) Hughes.

Before the family was raised, Great Grandfather Hughes died. He had cut a corn on his foot and developed blood poisoning. His business partner was an unscrupulous man, and he defrauded the widow and her children of their share of the business. This left them penniless, and the family had to be broken up.⁶¹⁷⁷

Father: Daniel WALTER (3 Feb 1794-28 Mar 1874)

Mother: Mary A. MAYER (31 Mar 1795-25 Mar 1870)

- You already know that Daniel Walter married Mary A. Mayer in 1816. What I find most interesting about that marriage is that NO MAYER families appear in Columbiana County until much later in 1800's. Raises the question as to whether

Mary A. Mayer was related to someone in Elk Run Township, with whom she resided, or if she worked for someone in that area when she met Daniel! The director of our local genealogy department, is a certified genealogist, who has published many books on Columbiana County genealogy, and I asked her about the Mayer surname and she said it is NOT a common Columbiana County name, but that it is sometimes spelled Myers and Myres and Meyers, which are the more common spelling.³⁴²⁹

- Surname given as MYER on Death Certificate of her daughter, Lydia.⁷⁴²⁰
- Name given as Mary Ann Myer(s).³⁴³³
- If Mary named her eldest son after her father, perhaps the father's name was Frederick.⁵⁰³⁴
- My friend, Carol Bell, has been doing some Elk Run Township research recently. I discussed your Mary A. Mayer problem with her. From her personal files, she came up with some interesting data that she gave to me to pass on to you as a gift.

She feels that the father of Mary A. Mayer is the Frederick Myers shown in School District #3 of Elk Run Township as of 1828. She said to tell you that she cannot prove that but as further evidence, she pulled the 1820 Census for Elk Run Township, page 58A, which shows:

Frederick Myers 1 male 26-45 (born ca 1775-94)
 1 female 26-45 (born ca 1775-94)

We cannot find Frederick Myers in Columbiana County in 1830.³⁹⁸

Paul

- Paul Williams was almost certainly the brother of Rufus; family tradition according to “Chotty” [McMorran] is that Paul's children/grandchildren were frequent visitors at Miron Williams’ home in Michigan.⁹⁶
- “Chotty’s” notes indicate no proof of the parentage of Paul, Rufus and Prudence.¹³⁹⁵
- Mr. Hiram J. Spicer, youngest son of Major Miner Spicer, born here in 1816, is still living on a portion of the land purchased by his father for himself, and others in 1810. Mr. Spicer says that the entire party who, with his father settled on these lands in 1811, including Paul Williams, were from Groton, New London Co., Conn. But he does not know anything of the Williams ancestry, or the maiden name of Mrs. Paul Williams.¹⁴¹⁸
- So also, when, from a few years before 1800 on for more than half a century, the tide was moving westward into Central and Western New York, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and territories still further on toward the Rockies; there were Allyns and Geers and Morgans and Gallups and Williamses and a good many others from North Groton [became Ledyard in 1836] swept along with it.⁷⁴

- 1816 Tax List, Portage County, Ohio.¹⁴²²

- Under the State Constitution of 1802 up to 1825 it was only known as Portage township, at which time Gen. Simon Perkins and Paul Williams platted and laid out a town upon and surrounding the intersection of Main and Exchange Streets in Uppertown, and, it being on the top of the summit, at an average of 400 feet above the Lake, called it Akron.¹⁴²¹

- He [General Perkins] did not, however, own all the land at the exact spot where he felt the town should be located. A section southeast of Main and Exchange was owned by one of the first settlers of Portage Township, Paul Williams, a native of Connecticut.

Williams had come to the Reserve in June, 1811, with Miner Spicer, of Groton, Conn., and the two men had selected sites where they decided they would like to settle. During the following winter, on February 12, 1812, Williams and Spicer bought adjoining tracts in Tract 8, Portage Township, from Joseph Perkins. Williams paid $273 for 109.13 acres, or $2.50 an acre.

After acquiring his land, Williams brought in his family, built a log cabin near the present intersection of Buchtel and Broadway, and began farming.

Agreeing on the town-founding plan, Williams and Perkins quickly came to terms and in the late spring of 1825 the two men employed Joshua Henshaw to lay out a town. Williams owned approximately a third of the town site; General Perkins owned the remainder. Each man retained title to his portion.

For some unknown reason, Williams had nothing named for him to perpetuate his memory. This may have been because he died soon after the town was founded, on May 17, 1828, and his properties were divided among his many heirs.¹¹²

- Williams, who had come to Portage Township with Miner Spicer in 1811 to select land for homes, purchased his tract, containing 109.13 acres, from Joseph Perkins on February 6, 1812, for $273, or $2.50 an acre. On the same day, Perkins sold Spicer 260 acres adjoining Williams' tract on the east, for $650.

Williams and Spicer became the first settlers of Portage Township. Williams built his home at what is now the corner of Broadway and Buchtel Avenue while Spicer built near the present corner of Exchange and Spicer.¹¹²

- Previous to the commencement of work upon the Ohio Canal, in 1825, the territory now covered by the thriving and populous city of Akron was an almost unbroken wilderness, excepting a small portion of the Sixth Ward (the original village of Middlebury) and the partially cultivated farms of Miner and Amos Spicer and Paul Williams, these gentlemen being the first settlers in Portage township.²⁵⁸
- When the commissioners decided to run the canal across the portage, General Simon Perkins of Warren (one of the commissioners) formed a partnership with Paul Williams, and bought up 1,000 acres for a trifling sum of money. They laid out the beginnings of Akron in 1825 and reaped a rich harvest. The Irish who came west to dig the canal put up a hundred cabins in the village. In 1827 when the canal was opened about 600 people were living in Akron. It was in the Reserve, but it was in no wise New Connecticut.¹⁴²³
- The farm house of Paul Williams, a one story frame building, on the laying out of the new village, was found to stand in about the center of South Broadway, a little south of Middlebury street, and was accordingly moved a few rods to the eastward, where, as the well known Babcock house, it still stands, in a remarkably fair state of preservation.²⁵⁸
- Leaving Groton again in June of 1811, with the sturdy conveyance of an ox team and wagon, and this time accompanied by his family, his brother Amos, and Paul Williams, he [Major Minor Spicer] once more reached the spot that was for more than twoscore years to be his home.²⁵⁷
- For a time, Minor Spicer, Amos Spicer and Paul Williams, with their families, constituted the entire settled population of the township.²⁵⁷
- The first settler in the Akron territory outside Middlebury was Major Miner Spicer, who laid out a 260-acre farm in what was later "Spicertown," in 1810, and settled there the following year, after a four-month trip from Groton, Conn., by ox team. With him were his wife, his brother Amos and his cousin, Paul Williams. This same cousin, Paul Williams, was to be the first settler in the original town-site of Akron. But this was not until the next decade.⁵⁰⁸
- In the following June, he [Miner Spicer] again started for Ohio, this time with his family. He was accompanied by his cousin, Amos Spicer, and Paul Williams who had purchased a 109-acre tract immediately west of his land. The party, traveling by ox cart, did not arrive in Portage Township until September.¹¹²

- The year following his wife's death, Major Spicer married her sister, Hannah Allen, widow of Barnabus Williams. Her husband may have been the son of Paul Williams, who also came as early as 1811.¹³³⁷

- Paul Williams, one of the founders of the original town of Akron, was a native of Connecticut who came to Portage Township in 1812 with Miner Spicer after having purchased a 109-acre tract from Joseph Perkins, of Groton, Conn., for $2.50 an acre.

Mr. Williams built a log cabin at what later became the corner of Buchtel Avenue and Broadway and engaged in farming.

In 1825, Mr. Williams joined with General Simon Perkins in founding Akron, approximately one-third of the original town site being his land.

Mr. Williams died on May 17, 1828. He was survived by his widow, Sarah; two daughters, Clarissa (Mrs. George Babcock), and Hannah; and a number of grandchildren including Horace Weston, and Oliver S., Eliza and Eunice Williams, children of his deceased son, Barnabas Williams.

On one of the earliest maps of Akron, a short street between Main and the Ohio Canal, south of Exchange, was named Williams Street, but for some reason now unknown the name of this street was later changed to Orleans.¹¹²

- On 1816 Portage County, Ohio Tax List.¹⁴²²

- I looked at our library (I'm in Akron) and surprisingly there wasn't much about Paul Williams! I would think that there would be more about him since he was one of the first folks here! ...Another book said that he donated half of the land for Spicer Hill Cemetery, so he may be buried there. I'm sorry to say that I've never heard of it, but it may have a different name now. Since he donated half the land, he may be buried there.²⁴¹⁰

The square town at the bottom of this map was founded in 1825 by General Simon Perkins and Paul Williams.¹¹²

• Portage Township, named for the ancient Indian portage between the Cuyahoga and the Tuscarawas rivers, was the birthplace of Akron. Within its boundaries both of the original Akrons were located, the one platted in 1825 by General Simon Perkins and Paul Williams and the one platted in 1833 by Dr. Eliakim Crosby and General Perkins.

Portage Township was set aside in 1798 by the trustees of the Connecticut Land

Company, owner of the Western Reserve, as an "equalizing township."¹¹²

• Paul Williams himself died sometime before I came to Akron 64 years ago [thus 1835]. At that time his widow (second wife, I think) was living in the old homestead (still standing) and with her were living a pair of twin granddaughters who had been orphaned by the early death of both of their parents. Their names were Adaline and Emeline Williams. The former married Samuel B. Axtell, of Richfield, in this county. A son, in Richfield, and a daughter, in New Jersey, survive them. Emeline Williams never married and is still living with her niece, I think, in Rahway, N. J.¹⁴¹⁸

- A digitized book found at Google books, "Table of Post Offices in the United States on the First Day of October, 1846," shows that Teunis Cox was postmaster of Baltimore, Fairfield County, Ohio in 1846.^{7223,7224}

- He [James H. Smith]...was a merchant in partnership with his brother-in-law, Tunis [sic] Cox. They married sisters, daughters of the Rev. William White.⁷²²⁴

- This partnership continued until 1827, when Cushing died and the stock was sold to James Smith and Tunis Cox. Upon the death of James Smith, Cassel and Eckert [sic] became interested in the firm. This was about the year 1835. Eckert was a son-in-law of Cox. In 1837 Galloway and Myers purchased the stock...⁷²²⁵

- The third sister was the wife of Tunis Cox, an old-time Lancaster merchant. Tunis Cox came to Lancaster from the East previous to 1827. For several years he was a merchant of Lancaster. He, in connection with his son-in-law, Eckert [sic], built and owned the house now owned and occupied by Wm. L. Martin.

He failed in business here and moved to Baltimore, Fairfield County, where he sold goods. He left Baltimore in 1850, moving to Fort Wayne, Indiana, where he kept hotel, the old Spencer House. His youngest daughter married Mr. Kinney, who became a Portsmouth banker. They were the parents of the secretary of state Charles Kinney.⁷²²⁵

Birth: abt 1749, Bedford, Westchester, New York^{1088,7614,8326}

Death: 1838, River Hebert, Cumberland, Nova Scotia, Canada, age: 89¹⁰⁸⁸

Father: John Bedford MILLS, 91 (3 Jul 1724-abt 1793)

Mother: Sarah HOLMES^{7589,8326} (abt 1732-11 Sep 1792)

- Unproven that wife Sarah is a Holmes (see HOLMES genealogy).³⁵
- It is possible that James Holmes' sisters Rebecca and Sarah were the wives of our David and John Mills of NS. Here are some interesting connections:
 1. James Holmes like David and John Mills was a loyalist and went to NS after the Revolution (although James Holmes returned to Bedford.) (David Mills son George stayed in Bedford until after 1790.)
 - 2 James Holmes was the Lieutenant of the Company at Ticonderoga during the F&I War. Peter Mills, David's brother served in that company and died that year (Probably killed in battle at Ticonderoga while serving under James Holmes.
 3. The name Dorcas is significant. None of the sisters of David Mills's Holmes or Mills ancestors were named Dorcas. So his daughter Dorcas was probably named from his wife Rebecca's side. Rebecca Holmes's sister was named Dorcas. This is not a common name.
 4. Rebecca and Sarah Holmes, sisters of James Holmes, are the right age range and the Bedford Genealogies do not give their husbands' names.
 5. If Rebecca and Sarah were sisters, that would help explain the closeness of the families in NS since John and David Mills were apparently quite distantly related.
 6. John Mills lived in Norwalk Conn and David Mills in Bedford before the Revolution. It is not known if there were any connections between their families there but there easily could have been. James Holmes's mother was born in New Haven and James Holmes himself retired there during the last part of his wife.
 7. It seems probable that David Mills' wife Rebecca might have had strong loyalist ties. David Mills himself did not serve in the Revolution on either side. (Some of his uncles and cousins were active Patriots while his brother Reuben was apparently a Loyalist soldier.) He was able to sell his land in Bedford in 1791. What made him go to NS in 1785?

8. The fact that David Mills and Rebecca Holmes were 2nd cousins (And Jesse Mills and Martha Mills would be 1st cousins) helps rather than argues against the hypotheses since such marriages were very common in the Bedford Genealogies.

Of course this hardly proves the hypotheses that Rebecca and Sarah Holmes were the wives of David and John Mills. But the clues are very strong, and they give a strong reason to conduct any possible further research that might relate to this family. I would be interested in any details or scraps which either confirmed or contradicted this idea, or leads on the investigation of the Holmes Family. I noticed that in the BEDFORD GENEALOGIES Bibliography, Ronald B Reynolds of Katonah NY had a MMS collection relating to Holmes, Miller, Renolds and Seely Families. (I am also researching Millers and Seelys) I would like to see that but do not know about disturbing private persons.

Dennis Kenaga¹⁰⁸⁹

- There is absolutely NO evidence that Sarah was a HOLMES. I checked the Holmes Genealogy in the Bedford Records and could not come up with any Sarah Holmes married to a John Mills. Even though the female marriage records were not as complete as the males, if the marriage was in Bedford, it was usually recorded.¹⁰⁸²

Father: Rev. James HAMILTON⁶⁸⁸⁵ (1601-10 Mar 1666)

Mother: Elizabeth WATSON

Research: • Note: While this information has been dutifully recorded as found, the genealogy strongly suggests missing generations! As it is now recorded, William's father was born in 1601 and his son Robert, our ancestor, was born 1734. Surely this is not possible. There must be another generation between Rev. James and William, father of Robert. More plausible is that John was another son of Rev. James, rather than being the same person.

Therefore, the line would go Robert, William, John, Rev. James, Gavin, Rev. Hans.⁸³⁷⁵

 - In 1901 the first Marquess of Dufferin & Ava was indeed Frederick Temple Hamilton-Temple-Blackwood. His wife was Hariot Rowan-Hamilton. Thus the photocopy shows a passing knowledge with the Dufferin & Ava family but, of course, such information could have been easily obtained from any edition of Burke's Peerage. A problem is that the Dufferin & Ava family only has a female line succession from the Hamilton of Clanaboy family and thus your ancestor Hans Hamilton would have had an undoubted claim to the title Viscount Clanaboy if his succession was proven. The Christian name Hans was used in the Dufferin & Ava family, the 3rd Baron was called Hans (1758-1839).
