First Generation

1. Samuel NETTLETON

Birth: 1605/1610, England [17, p 531]
Removal: 1644, Branford, New Haven, Connecticut [59, p 432]
Memo: from Wethersfield
Death: 1655 or 1656, Fairfield, Fairfield, Connecticut [56, p 146], [1198]
Father: Robert NETTLETON [3570]
Mother: Hannah [3570]
Flags: Earliest Immigrant

• Samuel Nettleton, an immigrant ancestor, was one of the men who bought (Totoket) North Branford, for a settlement, they came to occupy their purchase early in 1644. Most of the settlers were from Wethersfield. He died in Fairfield, Connecticut 1655 or 1656. His wife's name was Maria ----- . She died in Branford, October 29, 1658. [56]

• Also bought land at Fairfield.

Died at Branford and not long after his wife died; Inv. recorded at Branford, £77; the land at Fairfield appraised by Henry Jackson, Francis Hall, Henry Whelpley; house and land at Branford.

Action on this estate is found both at Branford and at Fairfield. [59, p 432]

Spouse: Mary [17, p 531]
Birth: abt 1609, Warwickshire, England [4234, p 1]
Death: 29 Oct 1658, Branford, New Haven, Connecticut [56], [8351]
Marriage: abt 1636, England [17, p 531; date only], [3570, place only]

• It has always been a matter of wonder to the compiler why, when the name Mary happened to be spelled "Marie" in early records, some family historians should insist on retaining the spelling Marie or even convert it into Maria. [59, p 432, footnote]

Marriage: 11 Oct 1715, Killingworth, Middlesex, Connecticut [79, p 83], [164, p 8], [663, Vol. 2, p 192]

• I obtained copies of various of the Killingworth deeds involving Charles Hazelton. The first, dated 30 Aug 1717 from John North of Kings town, Rhode Island to his loving Grand Child, Charles Hazelton, of Killingworth, Conn giving his negro man servant with a lame crooked leg, named Tom. The second dated 5 Oct 1722 lists Charles Hazelton of Killingworth while one dated 21 March 1722/3 gives him of Kingstown, RI. There are later deed records of Charles Hazelton in Killingworth which I do not have.

A book on Rhode Island genealogies gives three generations of Charles Hazeltons. The third born in 1689 would be a reasonable age to marry in 1715. [3535]

- There is a thin thread that connects the Daniel(5) and Amos(5) of Canada to this family. A major item is the agreement in names in Ontario - Tamsen(6), Roswell(6), Daniel, and Amos - with the Killingworth family. I know of no other Amos Nettleton of this period. Both the Amos in Canada and the one from Killingworth served in the continental forces. [1203]

Memo: from his Will & Probate dates
Probate: 7 Jan 1999 [135, p 19], [1206]
Memo: His son Daniel was executor
Father: 21. Daniel NETTLETON (abt 1715-bef 18 Jul 1745)
Mother: 22. Mary HAZELTON (29 Dec 1717-aft 1752)
Residence: Killingworth, CT; Rumbout, Dutchess, NY; Augusta, ON

- On 19 June 1751, Amos Nettleton, minor son of Daniel Nettleton, late, chose his mother Mary Shethor as his guardian. Mary Nettleton married John Sheathers 15 April 1747 in Killingworth. [1203]
- By the Killingworth deed records, Amos is living in Rumbout, Dutchess county, New York, April 1759. [1203]
- Amos Nettleton served in Capt. George Brinkerhoff's company of the militia of Dutchess county 7 Oct to 27 Oct 1777 at Peekskill guarding the river. The children of Amos state that he was a Loyalist. In his own petition for Canadian land in 1798 he states only that he has been a settler for eight years. [1203]
- It was Amos (1) who in company with a Mr. Lamb and others got lost in the woods, so the story goes, on their return from driving cattle to Burgoyne's army near Lake Champlain. In order to keep from starving while they were lost they killed and ate some of their dogs. [10, p 10]
- Her [Annis] grandfather, Amos Nettleton, had served on both sides of the Revolutionary War (many people had changes of opinion about the War). [135, p 2]
- Her [Annis] grandfather, Amos Nettleton, had almost starved to death during a cattle drive in support of Burgoyne's troops, camped near Lake Champlain. Amos moved his family from Rensselaer, New York to Canada. [999, p 8]
- As for Amos, he married and moved his family to Rensselaerwick, New York (Albany County) — until the departure for Canada in 1790. His wife, alas, remains unknown, but the names of their children have turned up in the land records of Grenville County. [135, p 21]
- Petition of 1798; states no service but eight years' residence; served part of the war in the Continental service; a common settler. Oliver Evarts. [994, p 231]
- In May 1798, in Augusta, Amos[5] Nettleton U.E. says he has been in "this country" 8 years and had no land. "Now being old and infirm" he petitions for 200 acres and was recommended for 200 as U.E. - apparently never claimed it. [164, p 6]

- As for Amos' land grant: it was awarded on July 3, 1798. But Amos did not live long enough to take possession, according to probate records. Within six months, he had died. [135, p 19]

- Last Will and Testament

In the Name of God Amen, I, Amos Nettleton, of Upper Canada and township of Augusta and County of Grenville, Being through the abundant Mercy and Goodness of God though weakness in Body yet of a Sound and Perfect understanding and memory to Constitute this My Last Will and Testament and Desire it May be received by all as such.

First, I Most humbly Recommend My Sole to God My Maker be Seeking His Most Generous acceptance of it through the all Sufficient Merits and mediation of My Most Compassionate Redeemer Jesus Christ who Gave him Self to be an atonement for My Sins and is able to Save to the utmost all that Come unto God by him. Seeing he even liveth to make intercession for them and who I trust will not reject Me a Returning penitent Sinner when I Come to him for Mercy in this hope and Confidence I Render up My Sole with Comfort humbly beseeching the Most Blessed and Gracious to prepare Me for the time of My Dissolution and than to take Me to him Selfe into that peace and Rest and in Comparable felicity which he has prepared for all that Love and feare his holy Name amen Blessed be God.

I give My body to the Earth from whence it was taken in full assurance of its Resurrection from thence at Last a day. As for My Burial I desire it may be decent without pompous State at the discretion of my dear wife and Executors hereafter Named who I doubt not will Manage it with all requisite Prudence as to my worthy Estate. I will and positively order that all My debts be payed by my Executors.

First, I do give and bequeath to my well beloved Wife, Half of the Lott No 12 South End, to hold it as her Property as long as she Remains my widow together with One Yoke of Oxen Two Chains, One Plow, & Drag, & afterwards they are to be my Son Amos's Property. I likewise give unto her one Mare, Saddle and bridle, One Cow, one Heifer, Four Sheep, & all the Hogs (except One,) All which are to become my Son Amos's after she is done with them (except the Mare, Saddle and Bridle is to be my Daughter Sarah Lane's.

Second, I do give and bequeath to my Son Timothy, One Yoke of Yearling Steers, One Yearling Mare Colt, Two Sheep. Likewise all that is Due from Mr. William Wells (after Ephm. Jones Esq. is paid out of it) to be His, at his own free use and disposal. Likewise one Sow, Shoat. I do likewise give unto my Wife all my Household Furniture, that I now

• Joseph Knapp, U.E. Loyalist, born October 14, 1745, was the great-great-grandson of William Knapp, born in England about 1578 who came to America in 1630 and was one of the first settlers of Watertown, Massachusetts. Joseph first lived at Ballstown, NY in 1775. He was confined to Gaol in Albany on suspicion of being active in raising men for the British army in 1777. Even though the rebels burnt his house and everything in it he did not come to Canada until 1782. He served in Major Jessup's Corps as a sergeant. He was married to Elizabeth, daughter of Daniel Nettleton, also a U. E. Loyalist. He came to Augusta by 1786 with his family. They had a family of fifteen children, most of which received a land grant of two hundred acres as a son or daughter of a U. E. Loyalist. [486, p 115]

- Evidence on the Claim of Joseph Knapp, late of Half Moon, District, Albany County, N. York.

Claimt sworn:

Fifth Generation

Says he was in Jessup's Corps at Riviere du Chine in 1783.

He is a native of America. In 1775 he lived at Ballstown. He did not come to Canada until 1782. Before that time he had been employed by Capt. Wattemeer in raising men for a Commission. In 1777 he was confined to Gaol on suspicion of being active in raising men. He never bore arms but once as a Militia man to Fort Edward.

Produces discharge from Major Jessup.

Now resides in Oswaigatchi.

Produces Certificate from several Inhabitants of the New Settlements that Claimt has suffered much on acct of the assistance which he had given to Loyalists. That he had been confined & drove from his Property on that account.

Wits Danl. Nettleton sworn:

Knew Claimt in the Colonies. He was always loyal. He gave great assistance to British Scouts & expresses.

He settled on his Lands the 1st of the War. He made improvets during the War. The rebels took his sheep & Cattle when he was carried to Albany Gaol. [928, pp 468-9]

- Joseph was a Loyalist. He had 15 children. He endured hardship leaving Albany NY, was robbed of cattle and much other property, and had very little to start anew in Canada.

- Joseph Knapp was a United Empire Loyalist during the Revolution. He emigrated from England to Albany Co., NY and removed to Canada at the close of the revolution. He was a Sergeant in the U. E. Loyal Rangers. He acquired a patent of land grant by the Crown in the Township of Augusta, Lot 5, W Side, 109 acres, & Lot 7, E 1-2, Ing. 7 in 6, & pt 5 in 1,409 acres, on July 15th, 1797. He was later referred to as Joseph of Montague. He died at age 93 and had 15 children.

- William Scott experienced many trials and privations in getting to Canada. The party, consisting of himself, two brothers, and Joseph Knapp, were lost in the woods, and running out of provisions, they were compelled to kill their dogs, which were eaten. Becoming so weak that they were unable to walk, they crawled for three days on their hands and knees. Knapp being completely exhausted, laid down to die, but his companions kept on, and finally reached the settlement of Augusta. Men went to the rescue of Knapp, and they were compelled to tie a blanket on two poles, and carry him to the nearest house.

- Death Notices of Ontario, Correspondent & Advocate, Toronto, 1834-1837

13 July 1836 -- At his residence in Montague, on Friday, May 27th, at the age of 93 years, Joseph Knapp. The deceased was one of those brave U. E. Loyalists who sacrificed his property and risked his life, by taking up arms in defence of this King and country in the American Revolution. He was one of the earliest settlers in this province; did his duty as an officer in the late American War, raised 15 children, all living; had 67 grandchildren, 63 great-grandchildren, great-grandchildren's 2, all living. He was a member of the Methodist Church for nearly 50 years. [2863, p 2]

- That Amos Knapp, son of Timothy Knapp, Jr. and with a known son, Joseph, born 1743 is the correct ancestry for JOSEPH KNAPP - UEL, remains to be proven, though all conjectured information to the point leads toward a 'high probability' that the assignment is correctly stated. As such, the TEMPORARY information reflected in this report is entered bearing all aforementioned comments in mind, and that the ancestry is that of conjecture only and has not been proven. [2863, p 3]

Census Data: • 1823 Census: Augusta, Grenville, Ontario, Canada. Probable. 1121. [1587, p 5]

General: • Much of the information contained within this writing is that of possibilities, and conjecture. As no in-depth research has been done in Westchester Co., NY, as applies to this family, one can only rely on information that has been shared with others researching the same family line.

Marriage Notes: • Joseph may have married Tamsen Nettleton, sister of Daniel Jr.,

Amos, and Roswell. It's funny there is no information regarding Joseph Knapp's first wife and nothing further is recorded on Tamsen either. [6205, p 6]

Family Notes: • Gerald Knapp of Ontario believes that the five young children of Joseph were children of a first wife also by the name of Nettleton. Who would better look after his children during his military career. This is where Elizabeth a niece of Tamsen would come in. Elizabeth probably started out as a housekeeper and nanny but ended up his wife. [6205, p 6]

General: • This cholera epidemic lasted quite awhile and many death notices were in the papers we looked at. Prescott was a port for ships on the St. Lawrence River and that was the source of the disease. One medication we read about was charcoal and oil and if they threw it up, which was rare, just give them another dose. [5004, p 2]

• Joseph Knapp, U.E. Loyalist, born October 14, 1745, was the great-great-great-grandson of William Knapp, born in England about 1578 who came to America in 1630 and was one of the first settlers of Watertown, Massachusetts. Joseph first lived at Ballstown, NY in 1775. He was confined to Gaol in Albany on suspicion of being active in raising men for the British army in 1777. Even though the rebels burnt his house and everything in it he did not come to Canada until 1782. He served in Major Jessup's Corps as a sergeant. He was married to Elizabeth, daughter of Daniel Nettleton, also a U. E. Loyalist. He came to Augusta by 1786 with his family. They had a family of fifteen children, most of which received a land grant of two hundred acres as a son or daughter of a U. E. Loyalist. [486, p 115]

- Evidence on the Claim of Joseph Knapp, late of Half Moon, District, Albany County, N. York.

Claimt sworn:

Sixth Generation

Says he was in Jessup's Corps at Riviere du Chine in 1783.

He is a native of America. In 1775 he lived at Ballstown. He did not come to Canada until 1782. Before that time he had been employed by Capt. Wattemeer in raising men for a Commission. In 1777 he was confined to Gaol on suspicion of being active in raising men. He never bore arms but once as a Militia man to Fort Edward.

Produces discharge from Major Jessup.

Now resides in Oswaigatchi.

Produces Certificate from several Inhabitants of the New Settlements that Claimt has suffered much on acct of the assistance which he had given to Loyalists. That he had been confined & drove from his Property on that account.

Wits Danl. Nettleton sworn:

Knew Claimt in the Colonies. He was always loyal. He gave great assistance to British Scouts & expresses.

He settled on his Lands the 1st of the War. He made improvets during the War. The rebels took his sheep & Cattle when he was carried to Albany Gaol. [928, pp 468-9]

- Joseph was a Loyalist. He had 15 children. He endured hardship leaving Albany NY, was robbed of cattle and much other property, and had very little to start anew in Canada.

- Joseph Knapp was a United Empire Loyalist during the Revolution. He emigrated from England to Albany Co., NY and removed to Canada at the close of the revolution. He was a Sergeant in the U. E. Loyal Rangers. He acquired a patent of land grant by the Crown in the Township of Augusta, Lot 5, W Side, 109 acres, & Lot 7, E 1-2, Ing. 7 in 6, & pt 5 in 1,409 acres, on July 15th, 1797. He was later referred to as Joseph of Montague. He died at age 93 and had 15 children.

- William Scott experienced many trials and privations in getting to Canada. The party, consisting of himself, two brothers, and Joseph Knapp, were lost in the woods, and running out of provisions, they were compelled to kill their dogs, which were eaten. Becoming so weak that they were unable to walk, they crawled for three days on their hands and knees. Knapp being completely exhausted, laid down to die, but his companions kept on, and finally reached the settlement of Augusta. Men went to the rescue of Knapp, and they were compelled to tie a blanket on two poles, and carry him to the nearest house.

- Death Notices of Ontario, Correspondent & Advocate, Toronto, 1834-1837

13 July 1836 -- At his residence in Montague, on Friday, May 27th, at the age of 93 years, Joseph Knapp. The deceased was one of those brave U. E. Loyalists who sacrificed his property and risked his life, by taking up arms in defence of this King and country in the American Revolution. He was one of the earliest settlers in this province; did his duty as an officer in the late American War, raised 15 children, all living; had 67 grandchildren, 63 great-grandchildren, great-grandchildren's 2, all living. He was a member of the Methodist Church for nearly 50 years. [2863, p 2]

- That Amos Knapp, son of Timothy Knapp, Jr. and with a known son, Joseph, born 1743 is the correct ancestry for JOSEPH KNAPP - UEL, remains to be proven, though all conjectured information to the point leads toward a 'high probability' that the assignment is correctly stated. As such, the TEMPORARY information reflected in this report is entered bearing all aforementioned comments in mind, and that the ancestry is that of conjecture only and has not been proven. • We spent a few hours in the Land record office in Prescott and found no land in the Robinson name until 21 Aug. 1837 when John Martin sold 2 acres, the SW corner of the West 1/2 of Lot 18 in Concession 3 to Desire Robinson. Remember John Martin had married Annis Nettleton, a sister of Desire, and was a brother-in-law. He was selling most of his land to a George Lane at this time and was about the time he went to Ogle Co. Ill.

Desire Robinson kept this 2 acres until 1 Apr. 1865 when she sold it to a Charles

Moses

• Mr. John Nettleton, now of Los Angeles, California, writes me in relation to the first grist mill in Rockford, which was built by his father and himself.

“Moses Nettleton, my father, was born near the village of Prescott, Augusta township, Canada, in 1798, from which place he emigrated in 1839 and settled in Ogle county, Illinois. In the fall of 1844, he in company with myself, went to Rockford, and after investigating the water power he contracted for the lot on the east side of the river next south of the city bridge, and also for water to run a mill. The following winter–1844–5, we got out timber for the frame, and saw logs for lumber, near Jefferson, wisconsin, to inclose the mill, which we floated down the river in the spring of 1845. Before reaching Beloit, we learned that both the Beloit and rockford dams had gone put in the high water, and we tied up our rafts and went down the stream to investigate. During the following summer we floated the timber to Rockford, got stone and laid the foundation for the mill. I think the mill was started sometime in the year 1846, but not certain as I was absent. It was started with two run of stone, to which a third was added about two years afterwards. It cost between three and four thousand dollars.” [1194, p 84-5]

Annis

- Her parents being Connecticut people of New England ancestry. [1006, p 741]
- Annis Nettleton is daughter of Daniel, son of Amos I. [10, p 10; margin note by Jim Scofield]
- “Mother knew but little of her line – only knew of a floating idea of a very wealthy Nettleton back some where whose filthy lucre was yet to make them all rich. What family does not look back to some such mirage My Grandsire Nettleton [Daniel Nettleton] kept hotel on the present site of Prescott. Mother often attended the bar. In 1812-13 as the English were about to cross the ice for the capture of Ogdensburg Mother distinctly remembered the scene. She served two officers to their drinks before they started. Both fell in the attack before they left the ice – one across the other.
“For fear you have forgotten the courtship scene I must give it. In an evening party at Prescott all the young men were to hold the girls in turn on their laps. John Martin was very shy and dropped each girl until Annis Nettleton came, when he held her as nice as could be. The Martin boys always did know a good thing when they saw it.
“In mother’s home was but the one son, Uncle Moses, and a lot of girls, so mother became an expert in many boyish lines. Could row passengers across the wide St. Lawrence with ease, could ride any colt they would bring. She was in the “sampler” business up in G. Could to old age make a fancy letter in worsted. When it came to carding, spinning and weaving your grandmother led the hosts.
“In her prime my mother for her limited advantages was clear above the average. Her study of grammar, by the laws of heredity, may account for your skill in its use. [Here I blush modestly.] She took a grammar to school and all went well until it came to “He loves. She loves. They both love,” when she gave up in disgust.”

The young Annis Nettleton doubtless got a lot of thrills out of the War of 1812 from the fact that she lived at Prescott, a town which was the center of considerable war activities. Once the Yankees crossed the river and there was a real smart fight and lots of men were killed and wounded, and they used the tavern her father kept as a hospital. I remember that when I was a small boy my Grandma Martin used to tell me about going into a room in the tavern where they had performed operations, and of their seeing an assortment of dismembered limbs. I can still remember that as a boy I used to picture a pile of arms, legs and heads several feet in height.

[I could now swap yarns with grandma about what I’ve seen in a war hospital, too.]

And I have often wondered about those British officers who were served at the bar by the young Annis Nettleton to their drinks before they started across the ice to attack Ogdensburg. My Uncle Wesley, historian of the scene, wrote “both fell in the attack before they left the ice, one across the other.” My uncle neglected to state, however, whether they fell across each other as a result of the drink grandma served them, or whether they were laid low by Yankee bullets.

But there were other soldiers that the young girl bartender served to drinks, “and thereby hangs a tale.” It seems that one night she had dreamed of seeing the young man whom she was to marry, for doubtless a century ago, the girls dreamed of matrimony the same as they do in our own unregenerate day. But it happened that this young man was unknown to her, she had never seen the face before. A day or so later a party of British soldiers entered and came swaggering up to the bar. [I believe that soldiers always “swagger” when they approach a bar.] But among them the young bar maid instantly recognized one as the very one she had dreamed about whom she was to marry. He turned out to be one John Martin.

[My sister Lillian has strongly protested against putting in these archives that our beloved Grandma Martin has been a “bar maid,” when a girl. So it behooves me to explain that in those Colonial days every hotel had a bar and practically everybody was a patron. Personally I do not consider that it was any reflection on the young girl’s character, for it was doubtless a household duty that all the girls in the family took a turn at. The fact that three of her sons became Methodist preachers, and that all her children were devout Christians is sufficient proof to me that there is no call to look upon her services behind the bar as a family skeleton.]

John evidently saw that his coming had caused a flutter with the pretty bar maid – that he had made a “killing.” So doubtless he had a growing thirst for which he found it necessary to take frequent trips to the tavern to quench.

[My sister Luna has today – March 25, 1924 – remarked to me: “Now, Riley, I don’t think you should have written that the way you have. Our relatives reading that in after years may get the idea that Grandpa Martin was a drinking man. Of course we know different, but the coming generations won’t and they may think that what you have written is true.”

So, for the benefit of Martins of future generations, the above allusion to our grandfather’s “growing thirst” is only a figment of my imagination.]

But it was not until three years after the close of the war that John Martin and Annis Nettleton were married. How different it was in those days and a hundred years later. That the young girl, who was destined to become our grandmother, should have fallen in love with a uniform is taken as a matter of course by us today, who have so vividly before our minds the days of our own recent war, and the feminine infatuation for anything in uniform. The girls and their rookie lovers in “our war” never thought of waiting until the war was over before getting married, and before our boys rode away to France war brides were thicker than June bugs on a summer night. [10, pp 5-11]

- This young woman - Annis Nettleton - was strong enough to row a boatful of people over the St. Lawrence, so that says something about her! Her grandfather, Amos Nettleton, had served on both sides of the Revolution War (many people had changes of opinion about the War). [135, p 2]

- The Nettleton Hotel was also used as a hospital during the war, and Riley, as a young lad, remembers his grandmother speaking of it. The young girl had an indelible memory of the operating room where she once encountered a collection of “dismembered limbs.” [135, p 15]

- At the age of 15, Annis was serving as a barmaid in the tavern during the War of 1812. That’s where she met young John Martin. She had dreamed of meeting the man she would marry but did not know what he looked like. She recognized Martin as the lad she had dreamed about. [4940]

- I did not know the father, but became well acquainted with the mother in later life. Her residence then was with her children in Rockford, Illinois. The traits of character prominent in her earlier days were still in evidence. Even then, she was remarkable for intelligence, vigor and saintliness. She loved the house of God, and communion with His people was her delight.

There were seven children, six sons and one daughter, and the mother’s traits seem to have been, in uncommon measure, inherited by them. They were virile, intellectual, ambitious and God fearing. I think that every one enlisted under the banner of the cross. Three of her boys became preachers, and each, in his own field, attained prominence and large usefulness. James was a spiritual evangelistic pastor and an eminent educator; Henry for fifty years served on prominent charges and districts in the great Rock River Conference, John Wesley for years engaged in successful city missionary work. [321, p 21]

- Dad's note: this was your great grandmother whom your dad remembers well. She visited us at Hamline in 1884 to attend graduation of your Uncle Edward. Dad was past 5 years old. Also Dad was taken to Rockford, Ill. in 1886 and saw her on her death-bed. [4939]

- An Annis [Nettleton] Martin apparently was in possession of some of [Samuel, b 1807] Bass's documents. The brother-in-law referred to, Freeman Woodcock, I find to have been the husband of Elizabeth Bass, a sister of Samuel. So far I don't quite understand why Annis had Samuel's papers. Annis was married to a John Martin, I believe. [7102]

- He had a brother-in-law residing in Ogle County, Illinois near Daysville. Annis Martin in that vicinity has his land titles & many other valuable papers in her possession. He says that his above mention Brother-in-law Freeman Woodcock knows where Annis Martin resides. [7102, p 4]

John

- Birthdate of 29 Mar 1794 also based on statement of Philetus Sylvanus Martin: "Sixty years ago the 27th of last March (1904) I made my advent into this world. If I was intended as a birthday present to my father on his 50th birthday I spoiled the program by making my appearance just two days ahead of time."

- John and Annis (Nettleton) Martin are two of our favorite ancestors. John fought for the British in the War of 1812, thus nailing down the disbarment of his family from the Daughters of the American Revolution. Annis Nettleton was tending bar in her father's hotel and tavern when a group of British soldiers, including John, came in, and apparently a romance followed.

The Yankees made an attempt to invade Prescott during the War of 1812 and were finally repulsed after considerable bloodshed and losses of life on both sides. The hotel of Annis' father was used as a hospital. John and Annis were married after the War of 1812. They had six sons, William, James, Henry, Moses, John Wesley and Philetus, and one daughter, Sarah Jane. Henry, James and John Wesley all became Methodist ministers. [999, pp 7-8]

- We spent a few hours in the Land record office in Prescott and found no land in the Robinson name until 21 Aug. 1837 when John Martin sold 2 acres, the SW corner of the West 1/2 of Lot 18 in Concession 3 to Desire Robinson. Remember John Martin had married Annis Nettleton, a sister of Desire, and was a brother-in-law. He was selling most of his land to a George Lane at this time and was about the time he went to Ogle Co. Ill. [5004, p 2]

- This [book] told of the founding of the church [St. Paul's (Methodist) Church in Prescott] in 1830 and listed, among others, the familiar names of John Martin, Adonijah Bass, Joseph Bass and Heman Hurlbut as trustees for the new church.

The church started out as Methodist Episcopal but merged with the British Wesleyan Church. This congregation was loyal to Britain, and during the Rebellion of 1837 it was noted that Adonijah Bass, Joseph Bass and John Martin had "ceased to be members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church." John and his brother Richard, Moses Nettleton, John Bissel and Amasa Wood all set out for Illinois. They were not impressed with the new town of Chicago and pushed on farther west. [999, p 9]

- In 1837 John Martin, Nathaniel Brown, Anthony Wood, Phillip Plantz, and Amasa Wood came from Canada to the area. The following year brought Moses Nettleton, Richard Martin, John, Richard, and Daniel McKenney, and John Edmonds came also from Canada. [327, p 365]

- The family moved to Ogle county, Illinois, when he [James N. Martin] was fourteen years of age. [321, p 21]

- They emigrated with four sons by covered wagon to Ogle County, Ill. in 1838. [351, p 1]

- It was in 1838 that John and Annis Martin left their home in Canada and came with their five children to Illinois. They came in a covered wagon and their route lay through Chicago, then a straggling frontier town stuck in the mud. It must have been in the summer time when they arrived for Grandma Martin in telling of the trip years afterward to her grandchildren told of gathering wild berries on their way.

When they arrived at Lighthouse and Grandpa Martin pointed out the little log house in the timber that was to be their home our grandma burst out crying and said, "Have I come all the way to this?" It seems that the home they left near Prescott was a fine old homestead, and naturally our dear could not see the whys and wherefores of driving a thousand miles or more and putting up with all the privations and hardships they had endured only to land in a dump like that. [10, p 13]

- Lighthouse Methodist Church.

Preaching services were held in the first frame house on the prairie built by John Martin in 1839.

Lighthouse Methodist Church is one of the oldest churches in the Rock River Conference and has served the community since 1836. [327, p 365]

- 3 separate land acquisitions in Ogle County in 1841 and 1842 of 392 acres. [7198]
- We spent a day in the Rockford area. The newspapers had a great deal about Henry and Jane who celebrated their 60th anniversary. We went to Lighthouse Point where John and Annis settled. John built Annis a big stone house shortly after they came. In the history of the Lighthouse Point church, there's a good account about the building of the house and the church. We found the graves of John and Annis. The headstones have been replaced in the recent past.

John Martin made one of the greatest investments. When Northwestern University was strapped for money, they offered perpetual scholarships for $100. John bought one. I'm not sure who was the first to use it, but it wasn't my grandfather, Joseph Earle, or his father, Henry. Much later my mother used it (four years' tuition free!). The last one was my cousin, Frederick Barteldes. None of his children used it, so it may have lapsed. Northwestern would hope so! [1010] Also see [999, p 12]

- John Martin was a successful farmer in Ogle County. When the farmers would go to Chicago to sell wheat, hogs or lumber, they'd form a wagon train, not only for protection, but to pull each other out of the mud. [999, p 11]
- Dale Martin: I read about John Deere and his development of the polished steel plow that made less difficult the cultivation of the dense, moist soils. Since the Martins lived about a half-dozen miles east of Deere's town of Grand Detour, it seems within the realm of possibility that the early Martins may have been customers of Deere. [7214]
- MARTIN – At the residence of his son, Moses Martin, in Ashton, Ill, August 29, John Martin, in his 77th year. Father Martin was converted and joined the M. E. Church in 1816. For about forty years he was a class leader and steward. On the 21st of October, 1818, he was married to Miss Annie Nettleton. For near fifty-two years they walked together. Their home was one of prayer and praise; their religion a saving power and a shining light. Greatly were they blessed of God in their own experience, in the work they were permitted to accomplish for the Church, and in the children which were given them. Their five sons are all honored members of the Church, and three of them, Rev. James N. Martin of the California Conference, Rev. Henry L. Martin of the Rock River Conference, and Rev. John W. Martin of the Minnesota Conference are in the active work of the ministry. For years father Martin has been feeble. He always seemed cheerful, always ready to talk about Christ and his salvation.

T. C. CLENDENNING. [1031]

- You'll all be interested in knowing that the graves of our ancestors, John and Annis Martin, at Light House are always to be taken care of (which is not always true of those in country places) as the sum of $1200 has been raised and put at 6% interest with good security for that purpose. General: • Chicago [1838] – “a struggling frontier town stuck in the mud.” [135, p 32]

- John found a place on the Rock River known as Lighthouse Point, so named because the lights from the home of Dr. John Roe there acted as a beacon for stagecoaches and covered wagons about to cross the Rock River (the city of Rockford lies about twenty miles to the north.) [999, p 10]

- Lighthouse Cemetery is on the west side of Daysville Road, midway between Daysville and Franklin Grove, at the corner of Lighthouse Road. The lightly wooded, fenced grounds adjoin the church. First burials took place in the 1840s. [1846, p 13]

• There are two Nettletons of Ogle county of whose origins I am not certain. These are Mary (married Philip Plantz 25 Dec 1823) and Ruth (m Michael Plantz 28 Apr 1825, both marriages in Johnston, Fulton Co., NY). In both cases they name their oldest son Timothy so I suspect they are daughters of Timothy Nettleton and Charity Fell. By deed records, 1831 and 1839, Philip is up in Augusta twp, Grenville Co, as a Blacksmith. Philip came to Lighthouse Point in 1838, by 1850 he was settled in Rockford, Ill. [1206]

• Daniel N. Robinson was a minister in the M.E. Church in Canada. When we were at the Methodist Church Archives in Toronto, we found a book about a speech he had given. Below is a copy of the cover. Richville is a small town about 25 miles east of Ottawa. He must have been well educated. [5004, p 5]

• Excessive labor probably predisposed him to disease, and after a few days of suffering he ceased at once to work and live. He died, August 12th, 1858, leaving a sorrowing companion and a little son two years old, not entirely too young to know and to feel the loss of a father's love. [5004, p 7]

• At the age of 14, Seth Hart Hills became one of the first settlers in Ogle county. When the older brother with whom he had lived was married in 1828, he felt so resentful and rejected that he ran away. For several years he nursed his grievance in a shack he built on the bottomland across from where Black Hawk statue is now located. Eventually other settlers arrived, and it was inevitable that one of them would like the site the boy had chosen. Of course, the first to file a claim would have to be of legal age. When that happened, he again “squatted” in the more remote unsettled area of Nashua township. As soon as he was old enough to file, he did so, and in 1840 received the final title to his farm one mile east of Lighthouse Church. He was soon to be related to two families who migrated from Canada. John Martin and Moses Nettleton were friends who had married each other’s sister. As [Moses] Nettleton’s wagons approached the area in 1838 with his goods and family, his oldest daughter, Jane, was eager to identify all the places he had described. She was happy to see places, but suddenly wondered where the

Bachelor Hills were, not realizing that her marriage to that “landmark” was to be the first wedding in the whole area. [327, pp 365-6]

Nickname: Sheriff [3285]
Marriage: 10 Apr 1853, Ogle County, Illinois [10, p 6; marriage only], [6853, p 5]

- His daughter, Harriet, was widowed at the age of 22, when her husband, John Taylor (then sheriff of Winnebago county), was shot and killed by a youth he had arrested for stealing cattle. [327, p 366]

- Sheriff John Taylor was shot and killed while chasing an escaping prisoner.

He and a local constable had arrested two brothers they suspected of cattle rustling. Upon searching the men Sheriff Taylor discovered one of them was carrying pistol balls. When he asked for the pistol the man said he did not have one. As they reached the jail the suspects suddenly broke free and ran with the sheriff in pursuit. The man who had been carrying the pistol balls pulled out a hidden pistol and shot Sheriff Taylor, killing him.

The suspect was apprehended several moments later. He was convicted of murder and sentenced to death. On March 27, 1857, he was executed by hanging on the farm of the current sheriff in one of the last public executions held in the state.

Sheriff Taylor was survived by his wife and 18-month-old son. [6251]

- I have spent a confusing day looking through the Earl file and have learned that the progenitor is Robert Earl b 1737 s/o Joseph b 1702 Eng. who married Miriam Brooker.

Eighth Generation

He relocated in Augusta in 1801 (Lot 27 Con 5) and appears on every census till his death. His son Joseph b 1758 stayed in the states after they both had served in the American forces. They should be listed on the pension rolls. Robert's other sons except Henry who died young had children and thereby descendants living locally but I can find no mention of which one sired your Joseph and named him after their grandfather or brother in 1819.

The family of Sarah Jane Martin is documented as this family was prominent among the first Loyalist settlers. There are several brief mentions of the Earl origins in several news clippings but they are not supported by our records. [5471]

William

• William Martin was the first to be buried in the Lighthouse cemetery. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Rowe in her book, "Recollections of Frontier Life," says of his death: 'Brother John Martin had four sons and one daughter. They were dedicated to the Lord in infancy, and the three older children were converted in Canada. William, a very pious young man, died at the age of 21 years - the first death in our colony. It was hard to give him up, there was so much promise in his character and his loss was deeply lamented. Brother Luke Hitchcock preached the funeral sermon at the new frame church. I don't think I ever saw so much deep felt grief manifested on a funeral occasion.' [10, p 145]

- His health became impaired and he crossed the plains to California in 1850. After three years, having regained his vigor, he returned to his old post in Rock River Seminary. In 1858 he joined the Rock River Conference remaining in the pastorate until 1864, when he became President of the Minnesota Female College. Two years later, being again in poor health, he was providentially led to return to California and connected himself with that Conference. He was happy in his pastorates in Grass Valley, Marysville, and San Francisco, but again his health was impaired, and with his family he went East for a visit. Hardly had he returned to the coast when an imperative and unanimous call came to him from the University of the Pacific, and he entered that institution as Professor of Latin and Greek. After eighteen happy years in that position, he retired in 1890 and became Professor Emeritus, which relation he has since held. Most of the time for the last eighteen years he has resided in Seattle, and large numbers of us have found his presence a benediction. [321, p 21]

- An event of special significance was the coming to the University, at the beginning of Gibbons' second term, of J. N. Martin, who for many years proved to be a tower of strength - he was far more than a professor of any single department; he became a central figure for the entire institution - it might be said, he himself was an institution. [324, p 42]

Eighth Generation

- Of no professor in the entire history of the University of the Pacific could it be said with more complete sincerity that he was universally esteemed than of Prof. James N. Martin, who was called to the chair of ancient languages and literature in 1872. He served under three administrations - those of Presidents Gibbons, Stratton, and Hirst, and was made Professor Emeritus in 1890. During his eighteen year incumbency he was recognized as a leader in the faculty and helpful counselor to each succeeding president; but even more important than that, he was always a true friend and wise consultant and confidant to the students, who trusted him fully and held him in affectionate regard. He understood the students with a sympathetic understanding they felt free to call upon him for fatherly advice. He was a Christian teacher and minister in whom there was no guile. His influence on the student body was most salutary and of character that abides throughout life.

Dr. Martin was born in Ontario in 1823, but with his parents he went to Illinois in 1838. After graduation from Wesleyan University, he taught in Galena Seminary, and entered Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1858. He was a devoted minister, but is best remembered as a Christian educator. [324, pp 76-7]

- 1102 Boylston Av., Seattle, Was.

May 11, 1905.

Being the oldest pioneer of the Martin stock of necessity places me in the van of the royal host of relatives. It is befitting then, that I from the milestone of 81 years, 7 months and 1 day, send down along the procession of the coming years my heartfelt greetings and fervent God bless you all. And though the experience of Moses, Psalm XC, 10, may be true of me in the main, yet I may perhaps, justly except the minor strain since many of the marks of senility are absent. I am not much stiffened, nor am I bent with the years. I walk without a cane, erect as ever, and as a man ought, "who can lift up his face without spot." My head is not yet crowned like polished silver. My eyes seldom need the use of glasses. My brain works fairly well in grinding out common sense and sound judgment. My memory trips me only occasionally. My appetite and digestion are all that I could desire and my general health correspondingly good.

I love Mary. I love my home and all the very dear ones in it. I love the Church and all its blessed ordinances. I love everybody, and that includes any enemy, if I have one, and every neighbor of whom I have many. Above all I love God with all my heart, and, as the certain result, all my later years are the happiest of my life, because filled up with the blessed experiences that make character and with the inspiring hopes that swing wide the gates of immortality.

Now, that all the dear ones to whom these words may come may abide in the atmosphere of the Ninety-first Psalm and verify the 16th verse is the prayer of the affectionate writer,

J. N. Martin. [1013, p 24]

- 1102 Boylston Ave., Seattle, Jan. 19, 1906

Heart deep greetings to all the honored Martin stock. If my arms were as long as my thoughts they would sweep around and gather you all in with a hearty "How do ye" embrace. The pleasure of hearing from the several households personally is no small satisfaction and evokes from my heart of hearts an earnest "God bless them all." I may say that I am in health, carrying around on foot often miles a day an avoirdupois of 156 pounds, a pretty good weight for me. The religion I enjoy is of an inspiring character, enriched with a satisfaction growing and deepening with the years and brightening with the radiance from the gates of pearl. And now I wish all my Brothers and Wives and Babies to consider themselves invited to be in Seattle on the 2nd of next July, 1906, for r-e-a-s-o-n-s. Till then "Adios" and love to all.

J. N. Martin [1013, pp 65-6]

dear Tib's to start it. God bless her sweet heart. May she live long as a joy to those who love her. Especially do we of the Pacific coast appreciate such a budget. We are so far away, and so seldom hear. Three times we crossed the continent to be at reunions of the Martin family. The first one at Ashton, at Moses' and Bell's home in 1872. Our dear Mother was with us. Again at the home of the same brother and sister in Rockford in 1893. Between these dates the Mother had passed to the "Bright Beyond," and a number of grand children had taken partners, so the family was much enlarged. Again in 1899 we enjoyed the family together at Henry and Jane's sweet home in Rockford. This time the married grandchildren of our honored parents had nice-sized families of their own; so by going back occasionally in the last forty years we have somewhat kept in touch with all save the very latest generation. It has been a great joy to us to do so. I am glad this budget is going over the Pacific to our dear self-sacrificing Clara, so isolated from her relatives, yet not alone, for God will be with her to abundantly bless and sustain. I think of her much, and write frequently, owe her a letter right now. Am waiting to answer when we hear how Wesley is; he was not well when the only letter we have received since their coming west was written.

Of our own immediate family most of you know. We have one son, safe in heaven since 1869. One daughter, a true Christian woman, doing noble work for our blessed Master in various organizations of this fast growing city. One sweet granddaughter, who like her mother is living a Christian life, but not a worker since her health broke during her second year at her eastern school. She is not, however, an invalid now, but is pursuing her studies here as they (her parents) will not spare her again to go so far away. She likes her music teacher here, as well as the one in New York, and makes fine progress. We have better health here than in our much loved sunny California home, which is rented. Our daughter heartily objects to our living so far from them, and makes it so pleasant for us in their home we are happy and contented, as we ought to be. The Lord is so good to us that we have hosts of friends wherever we go. We do love Him with all our hearts. With love for you every one. [1013, pp 26-7]

- He was a minister and was the district superintendant of the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church. [326]
- He married our Family [7 marriages listed]. [10, p 28]
- KINDLY SPIRIT OF REV. HENRY MARTIN TAKES ITS FLIGHT

EARNEST PREACHER OF METHODIST FAITH FOR PERIOD OF SIXTY YEARS

MAN OF STERLING WORTH

Rev. Henry Leslie Martin D. D., prominent in the councils of the Methodist Episcopal church for sixty years, beloved by several generations of Rockford friends, passed peacefully from the land of questions to the world of answers yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his home of many years, 723 Mulberry street.

He had been failing rapidly during the past year from infirmities incidental to his advanced age and a fall last Thursday which fractured his left hip was followed by an attack of capillary pneumonia which brought his long and useful career to an end.

Mr. Martin was born at Prescott, Ontario, Canada, May 29, 1827, the son of John and Annis Martin, and was therefore 88 years of age. The family came to Ogle county by wagon in 1838 and located at Lighthouse Point, where the son passed his childhood. He graduated from Rock River seminary at Mt. Morris in 1847 and on Nov. 1, 1849, was joined to Miss Jane Goldthorp, a fellow student at "Old Sandstone," in a union which only grew closer with the years until the passing on of the wife Jan. 10, 1914.

Converted at Early Age.

The pioneer boy had been converted at the age of ten years and had educated himself with a view to making school teaching his pursuit, but he felt a call to preach the gospel and was ordained as a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. Luke Hitchcock and preached his first sermon at Lighthouse Point in 1852.

He was appointed to the pastorate at Lee Center in 1852, to Cherry Valley and New Milford in 1853, to Lighthouse Point in 1855, to Oregon in 1861 and to Sycamore in 1863. In 1865 he was recalled from the Christian Commission to serve as presiding elder of the Rockford district conference. He was assigned to the pulpit of the Winnebago Street church, Rockford in 1868 and to Waukegan in 1871.

In 1876 he was again chosen presiding elder of the Rockford district conference. He assumed the pastorate of the Embury church, Freeport, in 1880, was assigned to Mendota in 1883, to Lena in 1885, to Polo in 1890 and to the Ninth Street church, Rockford in 1891.

Closed Career at Rockford.

He was appointed pastor of Court Street church, Rockford, in 1893, served as city missionary in Rockford for the two years ending with 1898, became again associate pastor of Court Street church in 1900 and in 1902 retired from the active ministry after sixty years of devoted and effective service. He had owned property in Rockford and claimed it as his home since 1865.

He last attended divine service Sunday, Dec. 20, when he participated in the exercises to the extent of offering a prayer of unusual eloquence and fervor.

He was present at the organization of the Rock River M. E. conference in 1840, which was held in a tent pitched for the purpose on the old Hitt farm near Mt. Morris, at which Bishop Waugh presided.

He roomed when at college with James B. Farwell, who later won fame in Chicago mercantile circles, and was bound in ties of warm friendship to the late Robert R. Hitt and Shelby M. Cullom. He voted the straight republican ticket from the time of the origin of the party to the casting of his last ballot and was firm in the defense of its principles.

True in All Things.

Elder Martin was thoroughly genuine in every relation of life, full of faith in the gospel of Christ and tireless in his zeal to make "Thy kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven."

He cared more for the coming of that kingdom than he did for the accumulation of wealth and would make any sacrifice, personal or material, for the advancement of the public good and the progress of the denomination of his choice.

Bred in the sturdy pioneer days which developed strong men, mentally and physically, he was well fitted to be a leader of men and there was never any doubt about the righteousness of any course or cause he favored.

His life and works, fill luminous page in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church in this section and his kindly nature and pure character endeared him to all, young or old, who came within the influence of this splendid Christian example. The world is better because he lived and loved and labored in it.

Four Children Survive.

Four children remain to mourn his departure, Mrs. Lois McCabe, whose devoted care during the last five years graced the sunset days of both parties, Mrs. William L. Andres, of Burlington, N. J., Joseph E. Martin, of Kansas City, and William L. Martin, of Minneapolis.

Two brothers also survive, Rev. John Wesley Martin and P. S. Martin, formerly of Rockford, both of whom reside in California. A third brother, Rev. James N. Martin, died at Seattle several years ago.

Funeral arrangements await the arrival, today, of the sons of the departed, but it is certain that the obsequies will be held at Court Street church and the remains will be laid to rest beside those of his life partner for so many years in the West Side cemetery.

The Henry L. Martin Chapter of the Methodist Brotherhood, of which deceased was pastor emeritus, will probably have charge of the services and Revs. Pooley and Frank D. Sheets have been asked to assist Rev. Frank N. Lynch in paying the last tribute of respect to the pioneer preacher they revered. [1020]

• I have spent a confusing day looking through the Earl file and have learned that the progenitor is Robert Earl b 1737 s/o Joseph b 1702 Eng. who married Miriam Brooker. He relocated in Augusta in 1801 (Lot 27 Con 5) and appears on every census till his death. His son Joseph b 1758 stayed in the states after they both had served in the American forces. They should be listed on the pension rolls. Robert's other sons except Henry who died young had children and thereby descendants living locally but I can find no mention of which one sired your Joseph and named him after their grandfather or brother in 1819.

The family of Sarah Jane Martin is documented as this family was prominent among the first Loyalist settlers. There are several brief mentions of the Earl origins in several news clippings but they are not supported by our records. [5471]

- Rockford, March 9, 1905.

As to who I am may be vouched for by most of you. As to what I am would perhaps be more difficult to verify. As to what I might have been will never be known. It so happened I came between what was before and what followed after in my father’s family. I have never been able to attain to the hight [sic] of what was before and have been outstripped by what followed after. I am glad however that I came where I did and of course when I did or this letter could not have been written.

I have lived nearly the allotted time. Much in the past that might have been improved, yet there has been much more of sunshine than shadow. And as I look into the unknown beyond there is much of hope. With a prayer that the All Father’s hand may guide us all in all the ways of life, and bring us all finally to Himself,

Rev. John Wesley

- San Rafael, Cal., June 15, '05.

I cannot tell you the pleasure your good words have given us. Thanks to Tib and Riley for the happy inspiration that came to them.

Sixty years ago in the old home at Light House Point, Ogle Co., Ills., John Wesley and Philetus Sylvanus were known as the little boys. Wes was 6 and Lotus 1. The Postscript became so gigantic and the older brother made such attainments, mental and physical, while the one just before me in the line was such a natural born humorist that the only way left for myself and tribe to lead the procession was to do it geographically.

After forty years in Minn. the transplanting has shaken us up; but as our humble home here is in a more beautiful spot than most of you youngsters have ever seen we are grateful and happy. The church here seemed to need us and we have been received so kindly we are sure the Dear Father knew we could not order our ways and so we take in deep breaths from the great pines in the front and rear of our little ranch and praise Him.

God bless you all, J. W. Martin [1013, p 33]

- Dear Children, Grandchildren, All; of Father and Mother, Beloved:

Whom we wait to see, being now at home in "Our Father's Home," -- We send love and greeting in this far-away land. Be it ever so sunny and beautiful it still lacks the dear faces that we were happy to see sometimes, and we miss them. When from the Twin Cities, or the States, they come to brighten this new home it will seem more homelike. The heartaches we share, dear Lizzie and all, bring us nearer together and to Him "Who is touched with the feeling of our infirmities." We thank you all for your love and care for our Clara, and now you will add Arthur and Alice to her name when you pray, for what can such helpless children do in those dark places?

We appreciate our privilege to read and now send on their long journey to Clara the good letters whose heart they will cheer.

Love to all from Mary Esther, wife of John Wesley. [1013, pp 33-4]

Residence: Rockford, IL; 659 N. Towne Avenue, Pomona (1898) [1017]

Occupation: horticulturist [1017]

Philetus Sylvanus

- Named "P. S." as a postscript - the "caboose" baby.
- The "P.S." of P. S. Martin really stands for "Post Script." You notice he was born when Annis was 44. [2018, p 3]

- MARRIED.

MARTIN - DAUGHERTY. In this city, on Tuesday evening, July 23d, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. A. L. Martin, Philetus S. Martin and Miss Flora M., eldest daughter of E. C. Daugherty, all of Rockford. [1300]

- Marriage document gives date of marriage as 10 Aug 1867. [320]
- This management continued until October 7, 1871, when the name of S. M. Daugherty, widow of the founder of the paper, appeared as proprietor. The following week the Register announced that P. S. Martin was business manager. [353, p 764]

Eighth Generation

- Came to California with his family by rail in 1887.
- Another son, Philetus S., is a ranchman near Pomona, Cal., on the Cheno [sic] Ranch. [1006, p 741]

- Flora & Philetus moved with their 3 sons to Pomona, Calif. in 1887. They purchased 10 acres of the Chino Ranch and planted it to fruit trees. In 1895 they purchased a block and built a home at 659 N. Towne Ave. where they spent their remaining years. Before moving to Calif., P. S. M. had been a bookkeeper and part owner of a steam cracker factory in Rockford. He passed away March 7, 1934. [351, p 2]

- Letter written by Philetus Sylvanus Martin:

Rockford, Ills Dec. 3rd 1876

"To day Mother gave me the following facts in regard to the Ancestors of the Martin family. About one hundred and thirty-five (135) years ago James or Richard Martin (Mother is not quite positive as to the name) being disowned by his parents for marrying a Catholic girl, took his wife, and little babe named William, then six weeks old, and left his home in the north of Ireland and came to America. William had no brothers, but 2 sisters, one married a man named Bradshaw, the other died an old maid at Father's house. William lived about 72 years.

William had three sons, the first two dying in infancy, they were all named James, and 3 daughters the last one by a second wife. James had 2 sons John & Richard and 3 daughters Lydia, Phoebe & Sophia – he was over 70 years old when he died in 1838.

John had six (6) sons & 1 daughter named respectively William, James, Henry, Moses, John Wesley, and Philetus S. and Sarah Jane. He lived to the good old age of 76 years before he died.

Philetus S. Martin [316]

- P. S. Martin, book-keeper at O. I. Luce's screen door works, is laid up with a badly sprained ankle which he got yesterday morning trying to hold a runaway horse. While on his way to work he saw a buggy drive under the C. & N. W. track on South Main Street, with two young ladies and a boy in it. The C. & I. Train passed the street at that moment and frightened the horse. He turned short, nearly upsetting the carriage and dumping both girls into the street. A disastrous runaway was threatened and running out into the street the bookkeeper threw one arm around the steed's neck and with his other hand grabbed the bit. In the tussle that ensued his left ankle was sprained so that he nearly fainted when he tried to stand on the member. The driver was thrown out bruised some, but thanks to Mr. Martin's timely assistance no serious injury was occasioned. [1019]

- A Brave Action.

P. S. Martin, the bookkeeper at the Cutlery Works, while on his way home last evening did a brave act, and received in doing it a badly sprained ankle, which will lay him up for some time. A gentleman drove his team and carriage up in front of D. A. Elmore's coal yard, and alighted from the carriage, leaving two ladies, who were with him, seated therein, while he went into the office. An engine in the C. & I. yard frightened the horses, who started off at break neck pace. The ladies lost all control of them. Mr. Martin sprang forward and seized one of them. He was dragged some distance, but retained his hold and succeeded in stopping the team. No damage was done to the team or the carriage. Martin, however, did not escape unhurt, for his ankle was so badly injured that he will be obliged to walk on crutches for a couple of weeks, his physician thinks. [1020]

- Pomona, Cal., May 23, '05.

Sixty years ago the 27th of last March I made my advent into this world. If I was intended as a birthday present to my father on his 50th birthday I spoiled the program by making my appearance just two days ahead of time. The P. S. to a letter may convey some important information overlooked before, or some trifling jest.

What I have been to the Martin family, the well known Martin modesty forbids further comment on my part. It was a great pleasure to Flora and I last year to meet a number of our relatives of the younger generation that we had never seen. To them and also to those whom, although not seen we yet love, we extend heartfelt greetings. I expect time will reveal the mystery of the hand on Riley's shoulder. And would say to those who are "waiting" that "All things come to those who wait." We do not forget in our years the one called of God to do his work in strange lands. That her life may be precious in His sight and work blessed of Him.

With a "God bless you" to all I am yours,

P. S. Martin [1013, p 28]

- [excerpt] Pomona, Cal., Feb. 5, 1906.

It goes without saying that we all were very much interested in Clara's [missionary to Penang, Malaysia] letter. Anything about the habits and customs of the people in strange lands is of interest to us, especially if written by those near and dear to us. We shall look for much of interest from Arthur in his letter, giving his impressions of and experiences with the "Heathen Chinese." We trust the Boxers will not get him and that he and his helpmeet and Clara will be blessed with good health and prospered in their labors. [1013, pp 69-70]

- Cause of death: Accident. Fell in bed room; fractured femur. [1026]

Eighth Generation

- Philetus S. Martin passed away this morning at the family home, 659 N. Towne avenue, after a short illness.

Mr. Martin was born March 27, 1844, at Light House Point, Ill. He has been a resident of Pomona for 47 years, coming here from Rockford, Ill. He was a charter member of the Trinity Methodist church, being the oldest living member. He was always an active church worker and had only missed a very few Sundays in attendance at Sunday school and the church since a small boy.

Mr. Martin is survived by three sons, Elias C., and John J. Martin of Pomona, and Walter M. Martin of Pasadena. There are four grandchildren. [7502]

Flora Maria

- Born: May 14 or 17, 1849: Buffalo, New York
- Died: Jan. 9, 1923 [sic] Pomona, Calif.

Flora was the daughter of E. C. Daugherty and Sophronia Marie Clark. The family moved from Buffalo to Dansville, N.Y. in 1850 and Rockford, Ill. in 1855. She married Philetus S. Martin on July 23, 1867. He was the son of John Martin and Annis Nettleton of Prescott, Ont., Can. They were married on Oct. 21, 1818 and had emigrated with four sons by covered wagon to Ogle County, Ill. in 1838. P.S.M. was born March 27, 1844 at Lighthouse Point near Oregon, Ill. John and Annis and 5 sons all celebrated 50 yrs. of marriage.

Flora & Philetus moved with their 3 sons to Pomona, Calif. in 1887. They purchased 10 acres of the Chino Ranch and planted it to fruit trees. In 1895 they purchased a block and built a home at 659 N. Towne Ave., where they spent their remaining years. Before moving to Calif., P. S. M. had been a bookkeeper and part owner of a steam cracker factory in Rockford. He passed away March 7, 1934 [351, pp 1 & 2]

- Pomona, May 21, 1905.

Well, that dear budget of letters has reached Pomona and I can't begin to tell what a jolly good time we had this Sunday afternoon listening to the reading of the same by the Post Script as he styles himself sometimes, of the original Martin family with whom I cast my lot in with some thirty-eight years ago, back in the dear old Rockford home. Yes, some people rave over California with its sunshine and flowers, but there are some things it lacks and one of them is the beautiful rivers and smaller streams of the East. Then we miss our friends so much, they come so seldom and so far between, and some never come at all. But I want you all to remember that the latch string is always out, and hoping to see more of you or all of you in the near future I will say good bye with love to all of you.

I remain lovingly,

Mrs. Flora M. Martin [1013, p 29]

• Mrs. P. S. Martin

A resident of Pomona for 37 years, Mrs. Flora Martin, wife of P. S. Martin of 659 N. Towne avenue, died at 10 o'clock last night after an illness of several months. She was 76 years old.

Funeral services have been arranged by Todd and Reeves, and will be held from the residence at 10:30 Monday morning, with the Rev. Fletcher G. Watson of Trinity Methodist church officiating. Burial will be at Pomona cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin had come to Pomona from Rockford, Ill. They were charter members of Trinity M. E. church, and Mrs. Martin had been active in church circles for many years.

Besides her husband there survive three sons, Elias C. of Claremont, John J. of Pomona, and Walter W. of Pasadena. There are four grandchildren. [2574]

Marriage Notes: • MARTIN-DAUGHERTY. In this city, on Tuesday evening, July 23d, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. A. L. Martin, Philetus S. Martin and Miss Flora M., eldest daughter of E. C. Daugherty; all of Rockford. [1300]

- Married 32 years in 1900. [1749]

- MR. AND MRS. MARTIN WEDDED FORTY YEARS.

Yesterday July 23d, was the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Philetus S. Martin, of 695 North Towne avenue, and last evening twenty-four of their friends and relatives gave the Martins the surprise of their lives. The throng proceeded stealthily in the Martin home and took possession before the host and hostess were aware of what was taking place.

Refreshments were served on the veranda early in the evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin were presented with a silver pudding dish as a token of the love and esteem of their friends.

Games and social intercourse were indulged in until a late hour when the company dispersed, wishing the hosts many more years of wedded life.

The out of town guests were Walter Martin and wife of Pasadena and the Misses Funk of northern California. [1023]

- Attended 80th Birthday celebration of Dr. A. L. Gilbert in North Cohocton, NY in 1904. [1301, p 2]

Eighth Generation

• I have the biography of Lorenzo Bissell from the 1909 Ogle Co. History which says this of Ezra:

"The eldest son of the Bissell family was Ezra, who came from Canada to Illinois about 1844, and settled in Taylor Twp. remaining there for a few years. At the time of the discovery of gold in California, he joined a band of gold seekers and in 1845 made the long journey to the western mines, where he made a futile effort to gain success. Returning to Illinois, he took up farm work, but about 1865 he sold out and removed to California, where, afterward, while in camp with a neighbor, he was killed, presumably by the Indians."

This is why I thought the Ezra buried in California may be our Ezra. [6852, p 3]
